

LUEDEKICK LUNDINISM OUT OF COUNCIL

DEMOCRATS TO PUSH DELAYED WORLD COURT

Political Coup Seen in Senate Move.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
Washington, D. C., Feb. 27.—[Special.]—No sooner had the senate foreign relations committee decided to shelve President Harding's world court proposal until the next congress than Senator King (Dem., Utah) served notice this afternoon on behalf of the Democrats that he would endeavor to force a vote at once on the ratification of the protocol.

By this procedure the Democrats expect to make a lot of political capital by professing readiness to put the world court into effect without delay, while demonstrating the resistance of the Republicans to endorse the President's recommendation without careful deliberation.

The Democrats, many of whom were not so eager to set on the proposition until they found the Republicans committed to delay, contend that immediate ratification would be applauded by the overwhelming public sentiment which the President asserted is in favor of the United States assuming participation in the court.

Church Council Takes Aggressive. They cite the attitude of the federal council of churches, representing 25,000,000 Protestant communicants, which not only favors the world court, but issued a call today to 150,000 churches to bombard Washington with appeals for a ratification of the protocol.

The Democrats also cite the announcement of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States today that the world court proposal is endorsed by millions of business men.

Harding Not in a Hurry. President Harding, it was stated at the White House, would prefer immediate action on his recommendation, but as the court is functioning already, he does not regard as serious the decision on delay until the next congress meets. He submitted the proposal, it was stated, as soon as the negotiations extending over a year disclosed that the adherence of the United States would be accepted by the other nations with the reservations stipulated.

Republican leaders said they would move to refer the King ratification resolution to the foreign relations committee, which would have the effect of killing it.

Would Put Senators on Record. Senator King said he would demand a roll call on all motions pertaining to the disposition of the resolution, so that every senator would go on record.

Every member of the senate will have to vote on this question, said Senator King. "I want the country to know who the true friends of the international court of justice are."

The foreign relations committee did not vote directly on the question of postponing action but decided to address a series of questions, most of them framed by Senator Borah (Rep., Maine) to President Harding.

Committee Interrogates Harding. These questions were embodied in a resolution which provided:

"That the President be requested to advise the committee whether he has an agreement obligating all powers, or governments, who are signers of the protocol creating the court, to submit all questions about which there is a dispute and which cannot be settled by diplomatic efforts, relative to:

(a) The interpretation of treaties.
(b) Any question of international law."
(c) The existence of any fact which, if established, would constitute a breach of an international obligation.

"Secondly, if the President favors such an agreement, does he deem it advisable to communicate with the powers to ascertain whether they are willing to obligate themselves as to such questions shall only be submitted in case both, or all, parties interested agree to the submission after the controversy arises?"

BRIDE GETS LINE ON COPS' SPEED IN CASE SPOUSE RUNS WILD

Hammonton, N. J., Feb. 27.—[Special.]—The telephone rang in the headquarters of Troop A, New Jersey state police, here today. A woman's voice spoke.
"Send some police, quick!" she said. Two troopers jumped into a machine, covered eleven miles of muddy and slippery roads in eleven minutes flat, and skidded to a stop in front of the house. The troopers found a young woman waiting on the doorstep.
"Do you arrest husbands for beating their wives?" she asked them.
"Where is he?" they countered.
"O, he's not here just now," she said. "I just called you up because I was married only yesterday and I thought I'd like to find out in case I ever need you."

The two troopers withdrew.

FRED STONE HITS 'SAWDUST TRAIL'

Noted Comedian to Give Life to Religion.

(Picture on back page.)
New York, Feb. 27.—[Special.]—On his knees in the paragonage of a little church in Butte, Mont., Fred Stone, comedian, whom pleasure fond Broadway hails as its own, has pledged his daily life and a tenth of his income to Christ.
The comedian reached this decision a week ago as he sat musing in a sleeping car snowbound in the Dakotas with others of the "Tip Top" company, making for the Pacific coast on tour. The company was held a week by the snow.
The Rev. Cecil Leslie Clifford of Butte has telegraphed to New York as follows:
"Fred Stone entered my study at the Mountain View Methodist Episcopal church Saturday, Feb. 17. He told me of having been snowbound a week in the Dakotas and thinking seriously of his personal responsibility toward God. At Billings he purchased a Bible and began to read and pray.
Gives Life to God.
"He said his instincts were always good and that his playing was always wholesome and clean. Yet he realized something had been lacking in his life. I explained to him the meaning of Christianity and the necessity of faith in Jesus Christ and acceptance of his program. While on our knees Fred Stone gave his life to God.
"Mr. Stone attended services Sunday morning and listened to a sermon on the divine principles of property ownership. After the benediction he grasped the pastor's hand and said: "I shall give one-tenth of my income for Christian work."
"He attended Sunday school and contributed to the school and the church. He ascended the pulpit and told his life story and his decision. He told of his early home in Denver, his experiences on the plains. Twenty years before he was baptized in the Methodist church, but since had scarcely attended service, he declared.
"True to End of the Trail."
"I am now determined to live a Christian life, he said. "I mean to be true to this decision to the end of the trail."
"Fred Stone then fell upon his knees at the chancel, and while every head was bowed reverently, he repeated the Lord's prayer he had learned in childhood.

Mr. Stone, in Seattle, Wash., replied: "What you read is true. I am not looking for publicity. It is a simple and natural thing, much too sacred to be used as copy."

Fred Stone is one of the wealthiest members of his profession, owning the twenty story Pullman building here, as well as a home and an extensive animal farm at Anteville, La. I., and a home at 150 Greenway North in Forest Hills. His income is said to approximate $12,000 a year.

NINE AVOWED RING ALDERMEN GO TO DEFEAT

Others Must Again Face Voters.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The voters registered emphatically in the aldermanic contests yesterday against Thompson-Lundin methods of doing business in the city council. The expression was so clear and definite that it is almost the equivalent of a public proclamation by the electorate. It is the first election under the fifty ward division.

Nine present aldermen were defeated outright. Eight of these were either tainted or smeared with the Thompson point, and more than half of the fifteen who will be compelled to run at the second election, on April 3, were daubed with the same mark.

On top of that not more than four aldermanic followers of the administration were re-elected and five, with a new order of things, will probably be glad to get away from the doomed system.

Anti-Gang Men Win.

On the other hand, not one alderman was defeated who has stood up and aggressively and energetically fought the demoralizing Lundin system, although several opponents of the old order will be compelled to spend the time and cash necessary to win at the second election.

The balloting yesterday resulted in the election of twenty-four members of the present council and five entirely new men. In twenty wards no candidate received a majority of all the votes cast, and therefore there will be a second election in each of these on April 3.

Richert and Hogan Close.

In the remaining ward, the Eleventh, a contest will probably be necessary to decide officially what has happened. The vote between Ald. John A. Richert and his colleague, Ald. Timothy A. Hogan, with the seventeenth precinct missing, is uncomfortably close. Richert is shown to have a lead of 126 votes over Hogan, but that margin is not sufficient to give Richert a majority of all votes cast because a third man obtained 191 votes. On the face of the figures a second election is highly probable.

Richert, who has been twenty years in the council and chairman of its finance committee for the last eleven, is the victim of a faction fight in the ward between the Democrats, James M. Duley backed Hogan, and Henry Stuckard sponsored Richert. The latter has received the continuous endorsement of the Municipal Voters' league for years. Hogan was given a commendatory report the last time. He claims the missing precinct gives him a majority of 56, consequently the election.

SOME OF THE LOST ONES

Among the defeated aldermen were the most faithful followers of the Thompson-Lundin administration. Guy Maddern was the first-in-the-ward, numerically considered. Ald. Sheldon W. Govier, the battling Scotchman, disposed of both Maddern and ex-Ald. Charles V. Johnson, and two other candidates.

Robert J. Mulcahy was a Thompson-Lundin man of the Democratic stripe. Two years ago, at the suggestion of the city hall, he attempted to put Ald. McDonough out of the council. Mulcahy ran a poor fourth yesterday in the new Twelfth ward. Ernest J. Kuntzman was the high man and William J. Gormley was second. Another election is required between these two.

Remember His Thompson Record. In the Twenty-ninth ward Ald. S. O. Shaffer did not get half as many votes as Albert J. Hogan, who two years ago ran on a platform of less talk and more work in the city council. 30—John K. Maloney [3,654] and Ald. E. J. Frankhauser [1,902].
31—William H. Foster [3,333] and Clyde C. Fisher [2,830].

*Returns Incomplete.

Ald. Hogan claims complete returns give him a majority and return him to the council without the necessity of a supplemental election.

Great Star of Far Skies Flares Into New Glories

PARIS, Feb. 27.—[United News.]—The French academy of sciences has announced that Beta Ceti, a star in the Ceuts constellation, has taken on a sudden brilliancy.
If the same thing were to occur in our own constellation, it was declared, the earth would burn up.
Scientists declare that it takes eighty years for the light of Beta Ceti to reach the earth.
The brilliancy of the star, which is visible to the naked eye, was reported to Camille Flammarion, the director of the Juvisy observatory, by Dr. Abbott, head of the Athens conservatory.

LITSINGER IN SECOND PLACE; MILLARD THIRD

Democrats Turn Out 165,338 for Dever.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Arthur C. Lueder, the Brundage-Crowe-Deneen coalition candidate, won the Republican mayoralty nomination yesterday easily.

He defeated Edward R. Litsinger, Hearst-Lundin candidate, by 54,144. Lueder's total vote was 123,704. Litsinger's was 74,560.

The other two candidates—free lance—ran considerably behind, but here came the only surprise of the primary. Arthur M. Millard, president of the Masonic Bureau of Service and Employment, ran ahead of the avowed "beer and wine" aspirant, Municipal Judge Bernard P. Barasa, to the tune of 51,054 to 46,690. The prophets thought the appeal of Barasa's platform would do more for him than it did. This contest was the only one for major municipal office in the primary. Lueder's two running mates, William H. Cruden for city clerk and John V. Healy for city treasurer, had no opposition and their vote has not yet been counted.

Big Dever Vote.

On the Democratic side there was only the regular organization ticket, William E. Dever for mayor, Al F. Gorman for clerk, and John A. Cervenka for treasurer. The vote for the latter two has not been counted, but the Democrats turned out a vote of 165,338 for Dever, a figure far surpassing the goal of 150,000 which they had set for themselves.

The Socialist ticket—William A. Cunnea for mayor, Pierce L. Anderson for clerk, and Robert H. Howe for treasurer—was unopposed. The party vote has not been counted.

The total vote cast, probably due largely to the fine weather, exceeded all predictions. There were 301,000 Republican ballots, and 165,338 Democratic mayoralty ballots recorded, a total of 466,346. The highest forecast was 450,000.

G. O. P. Nominee Talks.

After the results became known, Mr. Lueder made this statement:

"I want to express my deep gratitude to the people of Chicago in the Republican party for the confidence they have expressed in me. I also want to express my gratitude to the citizens' mayoralty committee and other groups that have supported me.
"I conducted a primary campaign which did not attempt to persecute any faction. I will conduct an election campaign which will not attempt to blacken any party. I believe in a Chicago which is above all factions and parties in the loyalty of its citizens.
Will Be Greatest City.

"I believe in a Chicago that is going to be the greatest city in the world. To make it the greatest city in the world we need to get down to the things that are more than factions and more than parties and more than politics. I intend to try to get down to them.

I will give my chief thought to the immediate neighborhood problems of the average, ordinary citizen. He is not interested in politics. He is interested in living, in working, in playing. I am for having the city of Chicago do its very best to give him the employment conditions, the neighborhood conditions, the home surrounding conditions, the amusement conditions which will make Chicago the kind of place in which millions and increasing millions of ordinary, normal, work loving, and home loving, and pleasure loving citizens will like to live.
"On that policy and without being swayed by factions and groups and political and racial and religious conflicts I will make my campaign."

Keen Council Fight.

The total vote on mayor apparently was lighter than the total cast in the numerous aldermanic contests in the wards, as had been forecast. And the only bitterness that developed during the day was in the aldermanic battles, where several upset the kind of support of some city hall supporters were recorded.

MORTON D. HULL IS NOMINATED CONGRESS RACE

Mrs. Huck Second; O'Hara
Democratic Choice.

Morton D. Hull won hands down the Republican nomination for Congress in the Second district to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Representative James R. Mann. The Democratic nominee is Barratt O'Hara, former lieutenant governor.
Six candidates ran in the Republican primary. Mr. Hull, who has spent more than sixteen years in public office in the house and the senate at Springfield and as a delegate to a constitutional convention, had a majority of more than 5,000 over his nearest rival, Mrs. Winnifred Mason Hull. The district, running in third place, was about 3,000 votes behind Mrs. Hull, the winner.
Representative Sidney Lyon finished in fourth place. Two other candidates, W. P. Owens and Edward Quinn, were far as the tally is concerned, were only "also rans."
Complete police returns from the Second congressional district give the following: Hull, 17,842; Huck, 12,744; O'Hara, 8,646; Lyon, 7,267; Owens, 5,121; Quinn, 577. Democrats—O'Hara, 11,333; Frank, 4,248.

GOES BACK ON THEFT CHARGE.
Released by the police in Memphis, Tenn., where he was held for a robbery charge, Maurice Gosh, 17 years old, 6308 LaSalle avenue, was brought to Chicago yesterday in connection with a burglary in Midway Park.

WIFE STICKS AT HELM AS LUEDER PILES UP VOTES

'Washday,' but She Finds
Time to Celebrate.

BY GENEVIEVE FORBES.
Women voters yesterday did their part in the primary battles, characterized by feminine leaders as one of the most significant political contests in the local history of suffrage. Interest in the civic issues involved in the mayoralty campaign, women had organized for each of the candidates and worked up to the last minute getting out the woman vote.

The women workers for Lueder, under the leadership of their campaign manager, Mrs. Leonard Brundage, held an enthusiastic reception for Mrs. Lueder last night at the headquarters, 8 South Dearborn street.

Thoughts of a Candidate's Wife.

"I'm happy," said Mrs. Lueder, "but happier than I was the day Art was persuaded to run. For I always knew he would win. He didn't go out after the office; the people wanted him, and I knew they'd get what they wanted."
Mrs. Lueder, an excellent housewife, spent a "typical day" at home, superintending the care of her home and two children, Ruth and Rollins.
"Tuesday," the wife of the winning candidate explained, "has always been my laundry day. And I saw no reason to change it just because Art was going to be nominated for mayor today. So the laundress came just as usual."

Votes with Victorious Husband.

Postmaster and Mrs. Lueder voted at 10:30 yesterday morning. They were accompanied to the polls by Miss Elsie Mueller, sister of Mrs. Lueder.
Mrs. Lueder interrupted her greetings to friends with advice last night to her husband to "remember the doctor's orders not to smoke."
Mrs. Myrtle Tanner Blackledge, secretary of the Republican executive committee backing Lueder, assisted Mrs. Brundage in receiving the hundreds of women who came to pay their respects to the guest of honor.

Mrs. Fletcher Dobyns, president of the Woman's Roosevelt Republican club, expressed herself as "highly pleased" at Candidate Lueder's large majority.

Tribute to Democratic Women.

Mrs. Maud Cain Taylor, executive director of the registration bureau at Judge Dever's headquarters, 10 North Clark street, paid tribute to the "ten thousand Democratic women who have come down to headquarters during the last two weeks."
Women as candidates were not so successful as women as workers in the primary. Mrs. Winnifred Mason Huck, according to returns from the Second congressional district, was reported third for the Republican nomination for the vacancy caused by the death of Representative James R. Mann. Mrs. Huck was elected last year as congresswoman-at-large to fill the vacancy caused by the death of her father, William E. Mason.

LITSINGER ASKS ALL PARTY MEN TO AID LUEDER

When the result in the mayoralty primary became known last night, Edward R. Litsinger issued the following statement:

"The direct primary law of Illinois gave me an opportunity of submitting my name to the Republican voters for nomination for mayor. My opponent, Arthur C. Lueder, received the highest number of votes and was therefore nominated. I accept the verdict of the Republican voters and will abide by the same. I congratulate Mr. Lueder on his success. It is now the duty of each Republican to pitch into the campaign and support the Republican nominee to the best of his or her ability. I shall tender my services, together with those of my friends and supporters. Mr. Lueder and we shall work as hard for his election as we would have if I had been nominated. The primary battle has been excellent training for us for the coming election, when we shall go to the polls and smash up the patched up Democratic machine roller which is trying to force another one of those old time old line Democratic administrations on Chicago. The Republican party has cleared its issues in this primary campaign. I have no regrets. My friends and I make the hardest fight possible against the Democratic machine. We would make the same fight over again. We are now ready to turn our guns on the Democratic party. We confidently await the explosion in the Democratic engine room which is bound to come between now and the election."
E. R. LITSINGER.

FLEEING BOY FOUND EATING.

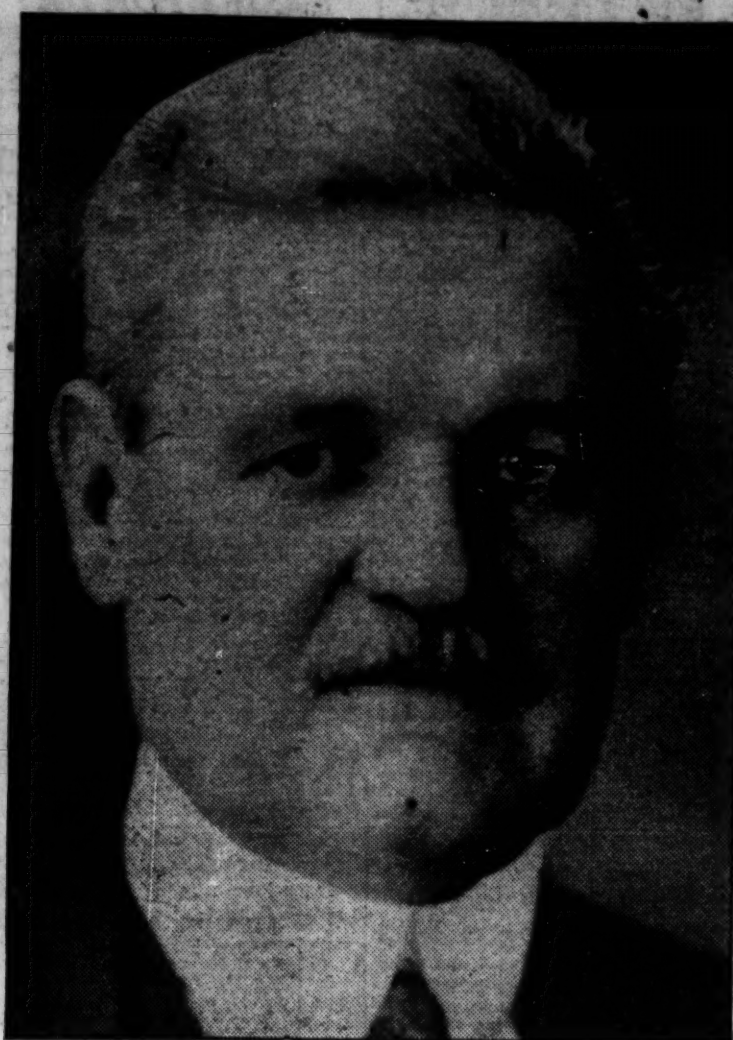

Stanley Gust, 8 years old, 3308 Wallace street, who ran away from home yesterday with $50 belonging to his mother, was found in the day in the Maxwell restaurant, 1407 South Halsted street.

ONE OF THEM WILL BE CHICAGO'S NEXT MAYOR

ARTHUR C. LUEDER.

Results of yesterday's primary show that Arthur C. Lueder, Republican, and Judge William E. Dever, Democrat, will oppose each other in the April mayoralty election. Judge Dever had no opposition on the Democratic side, and Lueder won by a commanding vote in the G. O. P. race.

JUDGE WILLIAM E. DEVER.

Charges Green Mill Continues Liquor Sale

A supplemental bill to the suit for an injunction to close the Green Mill Gardens was filed yesterday by Assistant Attorney General George H. Wilson before Judge James H. Wilkerson.
The original suit sought to close the place for a year on the allegations of "Count" William D. Yasell, prohibition agent, that he had procured liquor there. The new bill adds other evidence of alleged liquor purchases.

G. O. P. REJOICES IN UNITY SHOWN BY LUEDER VOTE

Party Chiefs Turn Wits
on Final Battle.

Leaders in the Lueder coalition campaign expressed satisfaction over the result and predicted a general Republican housewarming in preparation for a straight party vote in the mayoralty election. Some of the statements of the harmony campaign directors follow:

ROBERT E. CROWE—The nomination of Mr. Lueder is a victory for the Republican party. Under the Lueder leadership of Lueder it is big enough to satisfy the legitimate aspirations of all factions and individuals in the party. We now cease fighting Republicans and start upon the more interesting task of fighting Democrats.
E. J. BRUNDAGE—The victory today is the victory of the Republican party. The vote has shown that when it comes to a matter of vital importance to the city the voters may be depended on to go straight to the point. The results of this election show what a united Republican party can do, and the enormous Republican primary vote today is indicative of what will be done on April 3. Mr. Lueder has conducted such an impersonal campaign that there is no reason why all factions of the Republican party cannot support him.

AUGUSTUS S. PRABODY, vice chairman of citizens' majority committee. We congratulate the Republicans of Chicago on the get together spirit they have shown in the nomination of Mr. Lueder and we confidently expect that they will show the same spirit in the approaching election campaign. Chicago has been absolutely freed from the menace of Thompsonism. This was the main, first aim. It now remains to develop the positive civic policies which will produce not only a clean, but an efficient progress in Chicago.

Open Big Fight Monday.

HOMER K. CALPIN—The obvious conclusion is that the Republican party in Chicago is an actually unified public sentiment. The activities of the campaign will be suspended until next Monday, when the fight for a Republican victory at the April election will begin in earnest. In the meantime the solidification of all groups of the party for that campaign will be developed. With a united Republican party there can be little doubt of the outcome on April 3. The victory today means that the party is big enough for all Republicans, and the door is open for today for all good citizens who profess fealty to the party.

ROY O. WEST—The results of the primary show beyond a doubt that the Republican party is again a unified organization. The fight carried for Mr. Lueder in every precinct with a total vote for him of practically 75 per cent of the ballots cast. It shows that all elements of the party are uniting behind the choice of the majority. The most excellent feeling prevails on all hands. The defeated candidates will be with the party. I feel sure every one of the men who desired to take a chance with the primary felt as any Republican would who would go into a party caucus. Mr. Lueder made the kind of a campaign that would not estrange any of his opponents and I believe that the next mayor of Chicago will be Arthur C. Lueder.

CHILD RUNAWAY MAY LOSE FEET FROM FROSTBITE

Eleven year old Adeline Bischoe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Bischoe, 2441 North Lawndale avenue, lies at the county hospital facing the possible loss of both her feet from frost bite which resulted in gangrene. For many days Adeline had listened to her father and her stepmother quarreling, always about her. She felt that neither of them loved her and, when she heard them agree to send her to a home, suspicion crystallized into certainty. She ran away.
For several days she was sought in vain. All efforts of her father, a city detective, to trace her proved failures. At last she was found, half starved, ill from exposure, her feet frozen, with gangrene already setting in. She was taken to the hospital and promptly treated, but it is feared that it will be necessary to amputate her feet.

GOOD START FOR BETTER COUNCIL, M. V. L. ASSERTS

Many Ring Aldermen Are Rebuked by Voters.

Harold F. White, president of the Municipal Voters' league, last night issued the following statement:

"Of the present sixty-three aldermen in the city council, forty-seven were candidates in yesterday's election. Nine were defeated, and it is extremely significant that every one of those nine was an ardent follower of the Thompson machine. The people showed by their votes how emphatically they condemned the 'expert' robbery, the looting of the school funds, and the other abuses to which the city has been subjected, partly through the neglect of the city council.

"On the other hand, the voters rewarded the faithful service of Ald. Schwartz, Guernsey, Woodruff, Givier, McDonough, Horan, Cepak, Touhy, Adamowski, Crowe, Albert, Wallace, and Brieske by sending them back to the council with routing majorities.

Few Thompson Winners.
"Ald. Fick, Kostner, and Clark were returned, each having to his credit a fairly consistent voting record against the Thompson policies. There were only seven aldermen returned whom the league actually opposed for reelection.

"The five newly elected aldermen, Nelson, Horan, Arvey, Pielak, and Mendel, enter the council at a time when by taking their place with the decent element they can add immensely to the strength of the council.

"In the twenty-one wards where there will be second elections the voters will have an opportunity either to retain valuable aldermen or to secure new men of fine qualifications. For example, Ald. Richter, the staunch chairman of the finance committee; McKinnay, who will oppose Ald. Wilson, a Thompson follower; and Mills, who will oppose Ald. Garner, another Thompson adherent; Ald. Link, Frankhauser, Eaton, and Smith; Hallenbeck, Meyer, Gormley, Seif, Tomczak, and Peglow.

Further Chance in April.
"In several of the wards the voters, who had been aroused to the need of a better city council, prevented the reelection of men whom the league opposed because of their lack of independence, and in these cases the voters will have a further chance at the April election to retire such men from the council.

"All in all, the result is extremely gratifying to the citizens, who had reached the point where they could no longer endure the reign of extravagance and graft in the administration of the city's affairs.

"The people must remember that Mayor Thompson has for eight years been tearing down the city council and that it can not be rebuilt in a day.

"Yesterday's election, however, is a most encouraging start in the right direction, and gives promise of a greatly improved council if the voters on April 3 continue the good work."

Washington, D. C., Feb. 27.—Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant attorney general, forfeited $10 in traffic court today when she failed to appear to answer to a charge of violating speed regulations. She had been stopped by a motorcycle police officer and served with notice to appear in court. It was said by the police and when she failed to do so had been arrested on a warrant and required to put up the collateral, which she forfeited today.

J. R. BURTON DIES; WENT TO PRISON WHILE SENATOR

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 27.—Joseph R. Burton, former United States senator from Kansas, died at his home here today, aged 70.

In 1904, while a member of the senate, he was indicted on the charge of accepting a fee while a candidate for the senate from the Rialto Grain company of St. Louis, on trial for violating the postal laws, and although convicted and sentenced to prison, he appealed to the higher court and was released on a six months' sentence at Ironton, Mo., being the first case in history of the United States senator so imprisoned.

The case, however, was the focus of one of the most bitter political fights of that period in the country's history. Burton blaming his conviction upon alleged hostility of President Roosevelt and the "sugar trust," claiming his fight on the Cuban reciprocity bill had brought down the wrath of the sugar men.

In his earlier career Burton had become noted as a political spellbinder.

BIG KLAN VOTE IS CLAIMED AT EAST ST. LOUIS

Woodruff Peoria Winner; Other Results.

East St. Louis, Ill., Feb. 27.—Three of the five candidates alleged to have been endorsed by the Ku Klux Klan were nominated in today's municipal primary election, according to unofficial returns from the sixty-one precincts.

The returns showed that the Rev. William R. Evans, August M. Eggmann, and Ralph Cook, who were declared to have been endorsed by the Klan, were named for city commissioner. M. L. Harris, candidate for mayor, and S. F. Porter, commissioner candidate, who were said to complete the "slate," were defeated. Harris, Cook, Eggmann, and Porter had denied they solicited endorsement of the Klan.

M. M. Stephens, present commissioner government mayor, and William J. Veach were nominated to oppose each other in the April election. The vote was: Stephens, 5,596; Veach, 5,139, and Harris, 2,941.

Close at Bloomington.
Bloomington, Ill., Feb. 27.—Frank E. Shortness was nominated for Republican candidate for mayor by a plurality of twenty-six votes over John G. Welsh, according to unofficial tabulations. Emmerson Gilmore, Democratic candidate, was unopposed.

Woodruff Wins in Peoria.
Peoria, Ill., Feb. 27.—(Special.)—Former Mayor E. N. Woodruff has been nominated for mayor on the Republican ticket by a majority of at least 1,000. When fifty-four precincts out of the eighty-four in the city had reported the vote stood: Woodruff, 6,880; Michel, 5,061. The fight was one of the bitterest ever staged in Peoria. Woodruff was defeated by Michel two years ago.

Bullard Leads in Springfield.
Springfield, Ill., Feb. 27.—A coalition candidate for mayor, Samuel A. Bullard, led the present incumbent, Mayor Charles J. Baumann, by over 1,000 votes in today's primary. Baumann was the candidate of the Sullivan or regular Republican faction. Four commissioners—Reece, Smith, Spaulding, and Hamilton—also supported by the regular faction were nominated. Three coalition candidates for commissioner—Davis, Wood, and Devlin—and an independent, Figueroa, were nominated. A woman candidate, Mrs. Nellie J. Bell, received 905 votes.

POLICEMEN AND VOLUNTEERS SAVE MAN FROM FIRE

Bravery of two policemen and three volunteer rescuers saved the life yesterday of William Williamson, 65 years old, a night watchman, 1511 Lawrence avenue, who, overcome by smoke as he slept, was trapped in his burning home. His wife, who was in the kitchen, escaped down the back stairway.

Sergeant David Flynn of the traffic division noticed the flames on his way to work. With Policeman Suss of the West Chicago avenue station, detailed to a nearby polling booth, and three passersby he rushed into the burning apartment, which is above an automobile accessory store, and found Mrs. Williamson, whom he led down the back stairs. The party found Williamson, overcome by smoke, in the front bedroom and carried him bodily out. Firemen said that in a matter of seconds it would have been too late.

Father of Seven Children Vanishes on Way to Office

Joseph Zeller, 40 years old, 6329 Newgard avenue, secretary-treasurer of the Bullard & Gormley company, 54 East Lake street, is missing, according to a report to the Rogers Park police. Zeller, who is the father of seven children ranging in age from 4 to 15 years, left his home Monday morning for his office but never arrived there.

PEACE AT POLLS LETS COPS REST EASILY FOR DAY

High Light Is Rebuke of County Judge.

Despite the stop of the vote and the bitter contests in many wards, yesterday's primary was one of the most quiet and orderly Chicago has had in several years.

One man was arrested for "repeating." A Municipal court judge was warned against "framing" or interfering with the balloting. Several clerks who had been "bought out" were discharged. Shots were fired in one instance. But on the whole the day was quiet.

The usual corps of policemen assigned to the election commissioner's office in the city hall sat around most of the day waiting for calls from polling places. But the calls were few.

Jarecki on Job at 5 a. m.
County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki surprised other election officials by getting on the job at 5 o'clock in the morning. He remained on duty until a late hour last night.

Outside of issuing warrants for a few alleged booters, Judge Jarecki had little to do and passed much of his time touring the wards. He visited fifty precincts.

Once in the Twenty-fourth ward he clashed with Municipal Judge Joseph Schulman, who had been reported to Judge Jarecki as attempting to intimidate judges and clerks.

Judge Told to Keep Out.

"I've got my bailiff and clerk right here and I'll convene court right in the polling place," Schulman shouted when Judge Jarecki told him that in the absence of official business he had no more right in the polling place than an ordinary citizen.

"You convene court here and I'll convene court right on top of you," Judge Jarecki told him, and that ended the argument.

James J. Quigley, candidate for alderman of the Sixteenth ward, made a statement that resulted in the dismissal from service of the judges and clerks of the 32d precinct polling place of the candidate's ward. According to Quigley, the clerks had left their stations and were out on the street soliciting votes for his rival. They will be arraigned before Judge Jarecki this morning.

MEN WANTED

By Accessory Manufacturer to Learn AUTOMOTIVE ELECTRICITY

One of the world's largest carburetor manufacturers, located in Chicago, has changed his sales policy and is selling and servicing his carburetors through his own service stations. He has 1,500 such service stations now and will establish as soon as possible 1,000 more.

He has requested the American Bureau of Engineering through its subsidiary, the Ambu Engineering Institute, to secure for him the necessary men. The only requirements are that these men must be trained in automotive electricity. He will then give them training at his factory on his carburetors.

Unusual Opportunity Insuring Big Money, Steady Work

To those men who can qualify by putting in eight weeks at the Ambu Engineering Institute in intensive training, this is an unusual opportunity. Ambu graduates are being paid high salaries, and are recognized as expert automotive electricians over the world. Classes are limited to twenty men. The next class speedily enrolling. The next class speedily enrolling. Act promptly. Full details will be given if you will call, phone or write.

MURORS VOTE TO PURSUE SCHOOL DRAFT TO BOTTOM

White as Lawyers Pl

Faith in Brundage

The special school board grand jury unanimously last night voted to pursue the school draft into city hall and to expert fees might be paid.

The court, in the person of Judge McKinley, stands ready to petition and to push the matter by any method in his power. The grand jury's action here is a general to spend the money and vision has yet been made in the question of money.

The grand jury last night made recommendations as to how the new law should be enforced. This question is involved in financial tangle over the expenses of the school board. The grand jury is to decide whether Attorney General Brundage or State's Attorney is to have control of the money.

Brundage says he is ready to handle the matter, but must have control. State's Attorney Crowe is ready but he will not permit the matter to be handled by Brundage. The matter rests there for the time being.

Get Ready for Prosecution

The jury instructed Frederick and Marvin E. Barnhart, assistants to the attorney general, to prepare the petition to proceed with the school board case. The jury at 9:30 o'clock last night was in session for the purpose of handling a new case.

Two minor witnesses were heard. There was a few more who were called in connection with the case but this part of the trial was concluded. The school case is so drawn that evidence is expected to be presented before the trial will be over.

Barristers Land Brundage

Resolution expressing "entire confidence in the integrity of Attorney General Brundage and Messrs. Brown and Hart, and in the ability of the professional and lay members of the bar to handle the case rendered by them to the Chicago in the conduct of the investigation of school board case" was adopted yesterday by a vote of 10 to 2. The resolution of the grand jury, recently charges that the attorney general's office was "playing politics" in the special investigation committee headed by Sexton made an investigation of Brundage before Board of the affairs were brought before the grand jury Monday night.

The grand jury declared they were not in every particular of managers consists of Attorney Alden, Charles Center, H. E. Eckhart, Thomas J. Ryan, James C. Jeffery, John H. Pyle, Frederick A. Fitch, and James H. Pyle. The resolution was adopted yesterday in August 1932 a special grand jury called and charged with the duty of investigating the conduct of the affairs of the

NO SKEDADDLING FROM NEAR EAST, CRY OF CURZON

Britain to Keep Grip on Mesopotamia.

BY JOHN STEELE.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

LONDON, Feb. 27.—(Tribune Radio.)—Great Britain is not going to withdraw from Palestine and Mesopotamia where it has occupied territories while Lord Curzon is foreign minister. This was the effect of a speech by him today before the Aldwych club in which he protested against what he termed a "policy of universal skeddaddling." He also displayed unexpected optimism regarding conditions in Europe which was reflected in a speech by Prime Minister Bonar Law to a delegation of miners about a domestic trade revival.

"Losing Ancient Self-Confidence"

Referring to the question of Great Britain withdrawing from various territories, Lord Curzon said:

"I sometimes wonder whether we are in danger of losing something of our ancient self-confidence and self-respect or willingness to run risks, dare greatly and do greatly for great ends. Plagued by the mere sake of showing union jacks has long since ceased to have any attraction for the British race, but I confess that I am rather shocked when sometimes I take up my papers in the morning and read an almost pitiless appeal to the British people to withdraw from everywhere; from the Rhine, Constantinople, the straits, Jerusalem and Bagdad. "I have no personal sympathy with this policy of universal skeddaddling. I am old enough in public life to remember many cases where in deference to popular clamor we have withdrawn. I have seen British arms and influence withdrawn from Egypt, the Sudan, Transvaal, and parts of the northwestern frontier, and after a lapse of only a few years at the expense of untold blood and treasure we have had to go back again. There are places from where we ought to withdraw, but I would like to be cautious about it. We had better stay a little longer than go too soon."

Expects Turkish Peace.

Referring to the Turkish situation, Lord Curzon said the questions at Lausanne were now being discussed at Ankara by the peace and war parties and he believed that the peace party, to which his former colleague, Ismet Pasha, belonged, would prevail. Comparing the Europe of today with the Europe after the battle of Waterloo, Lord Curzon said that in many respects the continent had made a better recovery in this century. Referring to the British situation he said the nation's revenues covered its expenditures, the debt was being steadily reduced, stocks were appreciating, the exchange was rising, and exports had almost reached their pre-war level.

MUSSOLINI'S PLAN TO SETTLE GERMAN DEBT ROW REVEALED

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

ROME, Feb. 27.—Italy made public today its green book on the London-Paris conference. Among many documents illustrating the part played by the Italian delegates was one presented by Marquis della Torretta on the last day of the Paris conference, Jan. 4. The marquis cautioned the English on their reparations project, saying that if it were applied the problem could not be solved in a just manner. Therefore, he said, Italy could not accept it.

Marquis della Torretta reiterated his statement that Premier Mussolini's project, which had been presented at the London conference, would afford a more equitable settlement and provide grounds on which all concerned might find it profitable to agree.

$5,000,000 IN U.S. ORDERS HELD BY RUHR BLOCKADE

BY PAUL WILLIAMS.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

BERLIN, Feb. 27.—American purchases estimated at around $5,000,000 are affected by the French and Belgian customs regulations governing the shipment of manufactured products from the Ruhr. Goods awaiting shipment to the United States are principally textiles from Elberfeld, Barmen, and Crefeld and steel rails, plate, machinery, coal and tar by-products from the Ruhr. In most cases the buyers have made deposits in their American banks against delivery.

Less fortunate were the English firms, which ordered goods f. o. b. at the factory and paid an advance of 50 per cent on the purchase price, agreeing to pay an additional 35 per cent when the goods were ready. The German manufacturers, following orders from Berlin, refuse to pay the 10 per cent export tax which the French are demanding. Donald L. Dreed of Freeport, Ill., assistant American commercial attaché at Berlin, is here investigating the interests of Americans.

WARNING BY BAVARIA

BY JOHN CLAYTON.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

BERLIN, Feb. 27.—Bavaria today answered the Socialist party's demands that the Cuno government, while maintaining resistance in the Ruhr, make some move towards negotiations with France.

Privy Councillor George Held, leader of the Bavarian People's party, who is known as the "uncrowned king of Bavaria," sounded a solemn warning in a party convention at Munich. He said Bavaria would not permit any weakening in the united front in the Ruhr and that if the radicals carried their fight further and succeeded in overthrowing the present government Bavaria would follow its own course.

He explained this did not mean an end of the German empire, but its reconstruction, based on the Bavarian state. "We are proud of having a government of the kind now in power, which will not permit the Socialists to force us to capitulate a second time through a fault of the Socialist leaders," he said.

Cast Blame on Jews.

BERLIN, Feb. 27.—(By United News.)—The ultra conservative freedom party, which is in session here, today blamed the Jews for the world war and the occupation of the Ruhr by the French.

"We don't plan to conduct programs," said one speaker, "but we do plan to rid Germany of the class." Police intervened today when communists attempted to break up a meeting of nationalists.

Thousands Bury Ruhr Victim.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

BOCHUM, Feb. 27.—Shops closed and thousands of bareh headed lined the streets today during the funeral of a young workman who was killed a few days ago by a French sentry. As the casket passed the French post the guards came to a right about and agreed to give the miners a month's holiday. One-half the men will be idle in March and the other half in April.

Beat French Officer.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

PARIS, Feb. 27.—A French officer accompanied by military interpreter, both in civilian clothes, were attacked by Germans while dining tonight in a hotel at Bochum. They were severely beaten and were taken to a hospital after being rescued by troops.

The French high commission at Frankfurt today refused Karl Radek, chief of the Russian soviet press bureau, and his suite permission to enter the occupied territory.

Give Up Part of Seized Money.

LONDON, Feb. 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—The French have agreed to surrender that part of the German money seized at Cologne last Saturday which was intended for use in paying British troops, it was said here today.

Belgium Calls New Forces.

BRUSSELS, Feb. 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Belgian military authorities today requisitioned telephone and telegraph material and called up railroad and telegraph workers for service in the Rhineland and Ruhr. It was announced that employees sent to the occupied regions would be given extra pay.

Say Germans Plot Uprising.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 27.—(Special.)—An armed uprising on a large scale is being plotted against the French army of occupation in the Ruhr by German nationalist organizations throughout Germany, according to official French government advice received here tonight.

STOP & SHOP

100th Blue Ribbon Wednesday

Just a century of BLUE RIBBON WEDNESDAYS, and what they have meant to the food buyers of Chicago.

Shopping advantages that have been accomplished by overthrowing all the ancient traditions of buying and selling—

In fighting the public's battle with the food producers and distributors of the country, we have succeeded, not only in establishing a higher standard of quality, but the consumer, for the first time in the history of food merchandising, has enjoyed all the economic advantages of direct dealing.

We appreciate the public's interest in our efforts, and the increasing numbers of shoppers coming to this store every day makes us feel most keenly the responsibility of making this splendid confidence in us worth while.

You might be interested in knowing the quantities of certain articles sold, so that you may better understand what we mean by quantity-selling influencing the price.

Why this new Treatment appeals to dentists

It is so thorough. It is truly a complete dental treatment because it combines two different essential dental cleaners—a dental PASTE and a LIQUID.

Sanitol Tooth Paste is especially compounded to remove ugly film deposits from surfaces of teeth. Sanitol Liquid Antiseptic floods in and penetrates crevices tooth brushes cannot reach. It also strengthens gums, makes fragrant the breath, refreshes the entire mouth. Dentists say USE 2 CL. SANITOL. Just try them!

NEW AND WORK APPOINTED TO CABINET POSTS

Senate Confirms Choice of Harding.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 27.—President Harding today effected the greatest change his cabinet has undergone since his administration began nearly two years ago by designating Dr. Hubert Work of Colorado, now postmaster general, to be secretary of the interior, succeeding Albert B. Fall of New Mexico, and Senator Harry S. New of Indiana, to head the postoffice department in succession to Dr. Work.

The nominations of Dr. Work and Senator New were sent to the senate and promptly confirmed, that of Senator New almost immediately in open session in accordance with the courtesy always extended sitting senators, and that of Dr. Work in the day, after it had been referred to committee in open session and reported back.

The president will take up his new duties next Monday, when the resignation of Secretary Fall, announced several weeks ago, becomes effective. Senator New relieves from the senate with the adjournment of congress Sunday.

Selections Were Forecast.
The selections made by the President were not unexpected, as they were forecast two weeks or more ago. The President, upon receiving the resignation of Secretary Fall, who resigns after two years in the cabinet to take care of his private business interests, tendered to Secretary Hoover, the interior portfolio, but the commerce secretary expressed a desire to continue at his present post in order to work out certain parts of the program of helpfulness to business that he has instituted.

The President, it is understood, then made up his mind to transfer Dr. Work to the interior department, because of his often expressed desire to have a western man head this department, which deals largely with western interests. Dr. Work, furthermore, is said to have impressed the President most favorably as an administrator.

Having thus decided to transfer Dr. Work, the President turned toward the selection of a man to head the postoffice department. He turned to Senator New, who is one of his closest friends.

Mr. Harding, in making up his original cabinet, offered Senator New a place, but the senator preferred to serve out the remainder of his term in the senate.

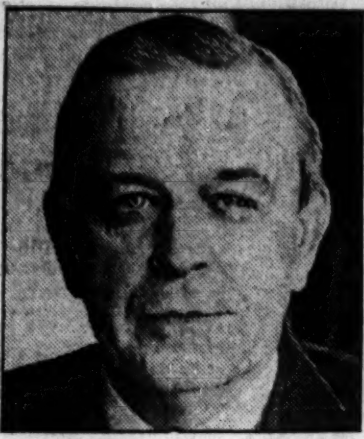

Wood Opposes New.
No sooner had reports become current that the President was considering Senator New than opposition to the appointment rose in the senate's own state. Representative Will R. Wood of Indiana, chairman of the Republican congressional committee, announced he intended to oppose and did so in a conference with the President, the selection of Senator New, declaring that the senator was defeated in the nomination in the state primary last year by former Senator Albert J. Beveridge, and as a consequence should take his medicine.

The division of opinion created a hurry in Indiana politics, but the effect of the opposition on President Harding, it has been said by some persons close to him, was merely to strengthen him in his determination to appoint his friend.

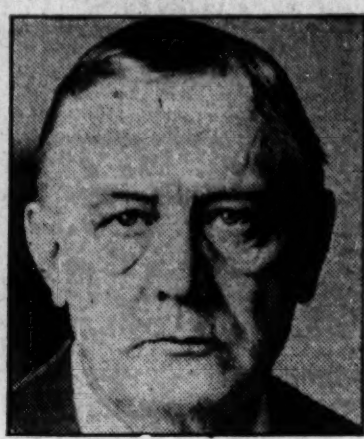

Senator New was in his office today when his nomination was confirmed. He declined to make any statement, merely saying he appreciated the honor and would accept. Late in the day he went to the postoffice department for a conference with Dr. Work. After taking the oath of office he plans to go to Indiana to spend a few days before actively taking charge of the department.

President Harding today also nominated the following:
Edward M. Tobin of San Francisco, to be minister to The Netherlands.
McKenzie Moss of Kentucky, to be assistant secretary of the treasury.
Charles H. Verrill of Maryland, as member of the United States employees' confirmation committee.

GERMANS GATHER TO SEIZE MEMEL FROM LITHUANIA

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
KOVNO, Feb. 27.—The truce agreed on yesterday between Lithuania and Poland regarding the disputed portion of the neutral zone was still in force today and the negotiations opening at Smolensk were continued at Karpishki.

It is believed that an agreement will be reached in a few days. Both Lithuanian and Polish troops in the neutral zone have been having a hard time keeping their partisans from further bloodshed.

The Lithuanian government is worried about the rioting of German workers in Memel.
Reports from East Prussia state that the Germans are arming themselves to retake Memel in the manner in which the Lithuanians took it.

Poland Plans Coup.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
PARIS, Feb. 27.—Poland is preparing a coup to seize the entire East Prussia, as well as Dantzig and the corridor, according to well founded rumors. The Warsaw government is to use a 400,000,000 franc (about $24,000,000) loan from France to finance the operation, it is understood.

RICH GIRL TO WED MAN SHE WON IN MAIL ROMANCE

[Picture on back page.]
Boston, Mass., Feb. 27.—A romance that had its beginning on the Labrador coast and resulted in a meeting and engagement at the fashionable summer colony at Prides Crossing, on the north shore, became known today, Miss Rosamond Bradley, Back Bay society member and heiress, filed at city hall notice of her intention to marry Charles A. Rheault, former officer of the Canadian Royal Mounted police, and now a salesman at Cobourg, Ont.

Miss Bradley gave her age as 34. Rheault is 35.
As a volunteer nurse in Labrador in 1914, Miss Bradley had occasion to correspond with Rheault. She returned to her home here without meeting the officer. After a few months she went to France as a Red Cross nurse. Rheault went across with the Canadian forces and they corresponded but did not meet.

Late last summer Rheault called on the Bradleys and went back to Canada with a promise of marriage from the young woman.

MISSING GIRL FOUND.
Elsie Cole, 14 years old, 2329 Stewart avenue, who disappeared from home on Monday, was found yesterday by John J. Eklund of the county highway police.

BOY THIEVES TRAPPED BY FIRE THEY STARTED

Two boy burglars who attempted to rob a grocery at 2164 North Claremont avenue early yesterday were trapped in the basement by a fire they had started in their efforts to escape. When rescued by firemen, the boys, Roman Wiora, 14 years old, 2639 Lister street, and Stanley Ragus, 14 years old, 1922 Lyndale avenue, were nearly asphyxiated.

The boys admitted their attempt to burglarize the store and stated that when they had entered the basement they could neither get into the store nor out again through the narrow window. Lighting matches and pieces of paper to make a way of escape, they started a fire in the basement. The storekeeper, awakened by their cries, called the fire department, and the boys, semi-conscious, were rescued.

Green Front Grocery Stores

Every bit of food you take into your home is shared by the children. Don't make the mistake of serving them any kind of food if there is the slightest doubt in your mind as to its quality. Don't shock their delicate stomachs and start them on the road to trouble. If you know where the purest foods are sold, don't let anything prevent you from going there.

Sooner or later, your desire to be sure will bring you to my stores. Nothing impure or unwholesome, nothing but the best is sold here, either by accident or design, and as soon as you find it out for yourselves, I firmly believe nothing can take you from us.

Take our bread as an example. A big 16 ounce loaf sells for 5 cents. In our bread we never use anything but the very finest of flour—Gold Medal, Pillsbury's Best, or Ceresota. There is no finer flour. And we use "whole" milk. That means pure, rich milk just as it comes from the cow, without one iota of the cream or butter fat removed from it. And every loaf of Thompson's bread is baked in a truly sanitary bakery. It is clean from the time it starts, right up to the time the clerk hands it to you in its waxed paper wrapping.

This bread sells for 5 cents. Of course, it's worth 5 cents. If it sold for twice the amount, it wouldn't be any too much, considering its fine quality. How much is it worth to you in satisfaction to know that every ingredient is absolutely pure and highest in grade? Wouldn't you be willing to pay 5 cents for such bread, particularly when you feed it to your children?

The safest plan to follow in buying food is to trade at one of my stores. My reputation and standing in this community are behind every solitary thing we sell. I know that every article of food in these stores is 100 per cent in quality. And you all know how low my prices are.

HER PERSONALITY THAT GETS MARY HER $2,500 PER

Hammerstein Tells Court of Stage Subtleties.

New York, Feb. 27.—[Special.]—The Hammerstein company to prevent Ed Gallagher and Al Shean from continuing to work for Ziegfeld's Follies for $1,500 a week, but to keep a contract calling for an engagement by the Shuberts for $2,500 a week for the team, Arthur Hammerstein today sided with the Shuberts.

In explaining the damage done to the Shuberts by the withdrawal of Gallagher and Shean because they were "unique act" in vaudeville, Mr. Hammerstein said:

Mary and Lina Contrasted.
"Gallagher and Shean have personality, and that's the thing that counts and can't be duplicated. Mary Garden was about the worst voice of any opera prima donna on the stage today, but she has personality and has been one of the greatest hits in opera ever since my father signed her up at the old Manhattan opera house."

Lina Cavallieri. continued Mr. Hammerstein, "came to America a beautiful woman, with a gorgeous voice, but she had no personality, so she was singing for $200 a night, while Mary Garden was getting $2,500 a night."

Had to Find a Substitute.

Questioned by counsel for the defendants, Mr. Hammerstein explained that Mr. Gallagher was the "straight man" who, in a vaudeville team, draws out his partner, Mr. Shean.

Mr. Shubert testified in glowing terms to the cleverness of their acting, they have a personality, he told the jury. You could only replace them with men like Al Jolson or Will Rogers, who get twice as much as they do.

On the benches Mr. Gallagher and Mr. Shean looked at each other mo-

BRITISH EXPORT ACT ATTACKED AT RUBBER MEETING

Washington, D. C., Feb. 27.—[Special.]—Action looking to the repeal of the British colonial export act, restricting production of crude rubber and to the development of additional sources of supply for the American and other manufacturers, was taken tonight at the close of a conference on the rubber question, called by Harvey S. Firestone, president of the Firestone Tire and Rubber company, Akron, O.

The meeting was attended by more than 200 American tire, automobile, and accessory manufacturers. Because of the progress made the meeting was finished in one day instead of two days, as was originally planned. Throughout the conference vigorous attacks were made on the British export restriction act as being unsound economically.

Resolution was adopted urging cooperation between American, British, and other tire manufacturers to protect the British government and to take such other steps as shall be necessary looking to the repeal of the act. It was pointed out in the resolution that since the passage of the act the price of crude rubber at Singapore has increased from 14 cents to about 37 cents per pound and that the increased price will cost the American public about $160,000,000.

MOTHER TRIES TO STAB MAN WHO MISTREATED GIRL

Myerical with fury when she reached the Town Hall station, where Charles, 34 years old, alleged to have taken indecent liberties with her 12-year-old daughter, was being held, Bernice Budrich, 2512 North Halsted street, attempted yesterday to attack him with a hatpin. Police restrained her. Charles is employed as a window washer for the American Hospital.

The alleged offense was committed at the home of Robert Simonson, 315 Madison street. Simonson, a friend of Charles, was in bed recovering from broken legs and was forced to look on. Charles was interrupted by the arrival of Frederick Meyers, desk agent at the town hall station, also a friend of Simonson, who arrested him.

Accused Slayer, Feigning Insanity, Put Under Watch

Walter Krauser, held in the county jail on a charge of murder, was placed in an observation ward by Warden Wesley Westbrook yesterday when he became so violent that he annoyed the other prisoners. Krauser, charged with the slaying of Probationary Foreman Ralph Soudera in a tea store December, has been feigning insanity for several weeks, according to Warden Westbrook. He will be placed in jail before Judge Oscar Hebel in criminal court on Monday.

ANTI-BILLBOARDS.

Chicago, Feb. 27.—There is a bill before the house at Springfield to remove all sign boards from the streets. We all know what an eyesore it is to have our beautiful boulevards cluttered with them and I am sure if you would use your powerful influence we would win out.

It is outrageous that our city officials will permit our city streets to be spoiled for the gain of a private company. I believe there is a law preventing the erection of billboards on the public streets.

YANK COLLECTOR IN PARIS AFTER OUR 255 MILLION

But How to Collect Rhine
Cost Is a Big Puzzle.

BY HENRY WALES.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[Copyright: 1923: By The Chicago Tribune.]
PARIS, Feb. 27.—Elliott Wadsworth arrived in Paris this evening to collect the $255,000,000 due to the United States for the cost of maintaining the American army on the Rhine from the armistice until last month.

The British, Italian, Belgian and French governments have named representatives to discuss reimbursement to the Americans for maintaining their army of occupation, but no German delegate has been invited, although the money, if collected, must be collected from the German state.

"I cannot discuss the matter now as I know nothing about the situation or the developments," Mr. Wadsworth said when a newspaper correspondent met him at the Gare St. Lazare, where Sheldon Whitehouse, counselor of the embassy, and Col. Ligan, member of the American official reparations commission, also met him.

Mr. Wadsworth smiled and said he was entirely ignorant of any plans for the United States to intervene in the Ruhr and reparations problems as announced in Berlin yesterday.

How to Collect.
Although every one concerned insists that the United States claim to payment for its expenses in keeping up the army of occupation has nothing to do with reparations because America did not sign the Versailles treaty, nobody seems to know just what process will prove feasible in collecting the money.

All the allied governments already have stated officially that they do not object to the United States obtaining reimbursement of $255,000,000 for the costs of the Coblenz forces, but thus far they have not acted from their position that the reparations are a blanket mortgage on everything valuable in Germany so the German state cannot pay a cent of its other obligations without violating the treaty and bringing a danger of other sanctions.

Glued to Reparations.
Although the allies insist that the reparations have nothing to do with America's claims, France, Great Britain, Italy and Belgium will be represented in their conversations with Mr. Wadsworth by the reparations commission's delegates.

Mr. Wadsworth does not intend to submit a detailed plan for reimbursement of the money, but will discuss the situation reasonably. He does not intend to embarrass the reparations question at a critical time like the present. If he is not able to find the foundation of a plan, however, the United States may deal directly with Germany for payment, applying the value of enemy property seized at the outbreak of the war and accepting payment in kind and material.

Ambassador Herrick will present Mr. Wadsworth to Premier Poincare tomorrow and then will leave for Biarritz.

SAMUEL DODSON
Samuel H. Dodson, free on bonds furnished after his arrest on Saturday, charged with having swindled stock brokers, was served last night with a second warrant charging a swindle of $30,000, issued on the complaint of S. W. Straus & Co., 6 North Clark street.

The warrant was obtained Monday from Judge Schulman in the South Clark street court. Police found Dodson, whose home is 1450 Argyle street, yesterday. He was taken into custody and will be arraigned on this second charge before Judge Schulman today.

BE CAREFUL
WHAT YOU WASH
YOUR CHILD'S HAIR WITH
If you want to keep your child's hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Many soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much free alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Mulsified coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless) is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as it does not possibly injure the hair.

Simply put two or three teaspoonsful of Mulsified in a cup of water with a little warm water, then moisten the hair with water. Rub the Mulsified in. It will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rises out easily, and removes every particle of dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, shiny and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified coconut oil shampoo at any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces will last everyone in the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified.

NAVY'S NEW OIL RESERVE CHARGE RENEWED IN SENATE PROBE

Washington, D. C., Feb. 27.—[Special.]—Hundreds of letters purporting to show activities of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana in agreement with representatives of the Cudahy Refining Company to keep independent distributors of gasoline and associated products "in line" with respect to prices were made available today to the La Follette subcommittee of the senate committee on manufactures making an investigation of the oil industry.

Thomas S. Black, president of the Western Petroleum company of Chicago, appeared before the subcommittee, under subpoena, to further discuss his charges that the Indiana corporation dominated its territory and engaged in price fixing.

Senator La Follette (Rep., Wis.), chairman of the committee, presented a telegram from W. H. Isom of the Cudahy Refining company declaring that he had never been a party to any price fixing activities. Following this, Mr. Black read a letter received by him from Mr. Isom, dated Nov. 21, 1921, stating: "We hand you here-with letter of Nov. 20 addressed to the

PRESIDENT SETS ASIDE NAVY OIL FIELD IN ALASKA

Washington, D. C., Feb. 27.—President Harding, by executive order, today set aside an area of more than 35,000 square miles in the northwest section of Alaska as an oil reserve to insure fuel for the navy. This naval reserve will exceed by 20,000,000 acres the combined area of the three other reserves, one in Wyoming and two in California, which is less than 2,000,000 acres.

The new reserve adjoins the corner of Alaska between Icy cape and Cape Barrow. It is for the most part flat grassy tundra, devoid of vegetation.

The reservation, according to Secretary Fall of the interior department, will be of the greatest importance to the navy since, for years, seapages of oil have been found all along the west coast. How much oil the reserve will produce, Secretary Fall said, is not yet known, as no government surveys have been made. The petroleum possibilities, however, have attracted private investigation and about 125,000 acres have been allotted to some fifty applicants for development.

In case further exploration should show the land worth developing, Mr. Fall said, it will be necessary either to erect huge storage tanks on the land to hold the oil until vessels could take it away during the three or four months in which the sea in that region is free from ice, or to pipe it several hundred miles to Fort Hamline on the Yukon, or to Fairbanks on the Alaska railroad.

While the section reserved includes the fifty grants mentioned, provisions of the reservation do not include the privately owned land which, Secretary

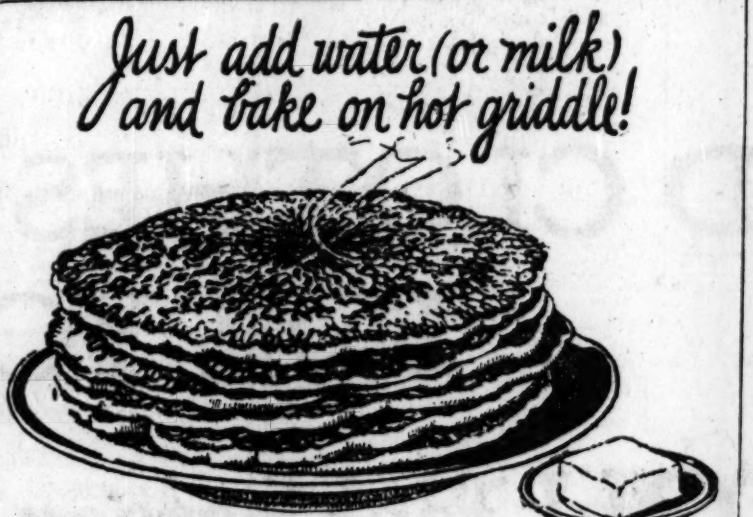

Fall declared, is a small part of the area. The lands set aside for naval purposes is to be so reserved for a period of six years for classification, examination, and preparation of plans for development until otherwise ordered by congress or the President.

The reserve section was bounded, in the executive order, as follows: By a line running true south from Icy cape on the northwestern extremity of Alaska, at approximately latitude 70 degrees 21 minutes, longitude 161 degrees 46 minutes, to the crest of a range of mountains forming the watershed between the Notalak river and its northern tributaries and the streams flowing into the Arctic ocean; then east along this crest to a mountain peak at approximately latitude 67 degrees 50 minutes, longitude 154 degrees 8 minutes, then true north to the highest high water mark off the western bank of the Colville river, following downstream to the sea coast; thence westward to point of beginning.

KEMAL AND WIFE PLEDGE LIBERTY OF TURK WOMEN

Break Precedent by Receiving Writers.

BY LARRY RUE.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(Copyright: 1923: By The Chicago Tribune.)

ANGORA, Feb. 27.—Mrs. Mustapha Kemal held an "at home" and poured tea for foreign newspaper men today, shattering a five centuries tradition and bringing a modern European atmosphere into the life of the new Turkish government. Mr. and Mrs. Kemal carried out the spirit of the interview when they discussed educational, industrial and professional walks of life, as well as their plans for establishing co-education throughout the schools.

The Kemals live five miles out of town in a house donated by the grand national assembly, which resembles Kemal Pasha in the same light as the framers of the American constitution regarded George Washington. It is an Arabic structure, two stories high, and is located on a hill overlooking the Angora valley for miles. The political and military side of Kemal Pasha is public, but his home life is a mystery, except to friends. Hence, there was more than the usual anticipation among the guests, including a British newspaper man, a photographer, Bulgarian newspaper men and myself, as we passed the sentries and arrived at the door, where a guard was ready to receive us.

Entrance to Home.
We entered a big anteroom with a marble fountain, which was not running, in the middle of the tessellated tile floor and were immediately ushered into a big room, best described as Kemal Pasha's den, where Premier Rasuf Bey introduced us to Mr. and Mrs. Kemal.

The room itself radiated the personality of Kemal Pasha. It was a mixture of the orient and occident. Heavy oriental rugs cover the floor and over the windows hung modern lace curtains, surrounded by Persian tapestries. In a corner was a heavy Chippendale writing desk and in the center a long table, where a copyist was busy. On a delicately worked brass center table books and magazines were piled and also a big box of famous American chocolates. Crossed swords and daggers and pictures hung on the walls, one of which was a donation from the city of Beirut, showing Kemal Pasha uniting the Arabs and Indians. Gold incense burners and oriental vases and bric-a-brac were on the shelves and tables. Learning against the wall was a marble tablet of ancient Greek design, showing Turkey, victorious, breaking the shackles of oppression and rising triumphant. In this semi-oriental atmosphere were heavy leather upholstered chairs, but one divan was covered in an oriental fashion.

Mrs. Kemal on Women.
After the exchange of formalities Mrs. Kemal directed the conversation to the sphere of woman. She has numerous American friends and her father is a former member of the New York cotton exchange. Though she never has visited America, she was educated in England and France, and therefore is quite familiar with women's activities in the United States. She laughed when a correspondent explained that American women usurped all the privileges of men without taking over the responsibilities, and it was the only place in the world where a sentimental jury would excuse the brutality of husbands killing. This was not the goal of Turkish women, she said.

"My husband and I are in perfect accord on the question of the women's sphere, like we are on all political questions," she said.

She then translated the conversation, which had been in English, to

QUITS CHILE

SANTIAGO, Chile, Feb. 27.—[By the Associated Press.]—The rumors, previously denied, that Bolivia is about to break diplomatic relations with Chile were revived today when it became known that the Bolivian minister plans to leave on Saturday for Buenos Aires for a vacation. His departure follows that of the secretary of the legation, which returned to the Bolivian capital ostensibly on private business.

Bolivia recently made an attempt to secure Chilean consent to revision of the treaty of 1904 by which it lost the province of Antofagasta. The object of the proposed revision was to provide Bolivia with an outlet to the sea. Chile refused to consider the request, but offered to negotiate on the basis of territorial compensation. Bolivia thereupon announced that it could not, in view of this situation, send representatives to the forthcoming pan-American congress in Santiago, as it felt that its position was not definite and that its abstention would serve to prevent disagreements within the congress. It notified Chile, however, that this decision was not to be construed as an act of hostility.

Kemal Pasha, who replied that a woman must be regarded as a partner and comrade of a man, even to the point of abolishing men and women clubs, favoring clubs for both men and women without segregation.

"Women" by Mr. Kemal.

When asked if Turkey was prepared to give women their freedom, Kemal Pasha made a long explanation, which his wife and Rasuf Bey translated. In the first place, he said, Europeans did not know the real conditions in Turkey, which was not surprising, as many Turkish readers are ignorant of it. Eighty per cent of the Turkish women enjoy the same rights as men, he said. Peasant women, who engage in every phase of men's work—cultivation of the fields, live stock, and heavy timber jacking—after the day's work is done participate in the same social life as the men. Besides doing men's work as well as men, they know more. For each man who is able to read and write there are two women.

Part of the other 20 per cent, which are in the big cities like Constantinople, which the Europeans see, are restricted. Neither the seclusion nor the veil are racially or religiously Turkish, but are an inheritance from the east. These restrictions Kemal Pasha analyzed as nothing more than the result of the attitude of some men and women, merely as a means to gratify their animal desires. For a man regarding a woman as a partner and comrade restriction is impossible, he said.

Turk Women to Be Free.
Certainly some of these 20 per cent have fixed ideas and probably will retain them, but the freedom of Turkish women is inevitable, as it is based not only on the will but on the practice of the majority. He said it was not revolution but evolution. His study and experiences with revolution had satisfied him that success comes only when the majority favor the ideals advanced.

This was the secret of the success of the nationalist government despite the obstacles. Had not the nationalist spirit permeated the masses, the movement would have failed in the beginning.

His wife, since their marriage, had accompanied him everywhere he had to go, to the front to inspect troops, to social and diplomatic functions, banquets, and receptions, yet at not a single place had the majority failed to endorse the movement, because his wife was doing exactly what the majority of women wished.

The Rulers of Turkey.

Kemal Pasha is usually pictured as austere. He appears to be anything but that, laughing with the others when the conversation took a humorous turn. Once, when explaining that Turkey never would accept any régime depriving her of economic independence in the slightest, his gray eyes set tensely. Instead of the Kemal Pasha the world knows, on the battlefield snapping orders or in the chamber haranguing the deputies, here was Kemal Pasha in his slippers.

Mrs. Kemal is a beauty of the Circassian type, with dark eyes, flashing through long eyelashes, her small mouth, when laughing, revealing a perfect set of teeth, suggestive of a tooth paste advertisement. She wore the usual black satin Turkish dress and was unveiled. She had bracelets on both wrists, but she had only two rings, one a four carat diamond in a deep platinum setting, and the other a platinum wedding ring, which Ismet Pasha, who dropped in during the interview, brought from Lausanne. She showed the wedding ring around. Her husband's name was on the inside. Kemal Pasha was dressed in a sack suit and soft collar.

Rich in Oriental Charm.
Two was served in the dining room, which was decorated with oriental tapestries, the sideboard containing oriental and occidental services, the gold and silver goblets and vases in themselves being sufficient to fascinate a collector.

Kemal Pasha and Ismet Pasha remained in the den while Mrs. Kemal served tea, which Rasuf Bey attended. She chatted gayly and recounted humorously the story of her three months' imprisonment by the Greeks in Smyrna and later how she was freed when Kemal arrived. She was accused of espionage and understood a sentence of death was contemplated. She neither admitted nor denied the charge.

Then Mrs. Kemal told about her marriage. She said she had always been against marriage and had devoted her life to studying, which eventually she desired to bring into service for the nation. She and Kemal Pasha had discussed the educational and political needs of Turkey and were so in harmony that it had brought them closer together. Their marriage surprised her friends. Kemal Pasha had wanted her to work independently, but she had desired to work with him actively in the educational and political work.

YOU'RE glad to save money when you buy things—furniture or anything else. But you know that low prices may, and often do mean low quality.

Fine merchandise, when it can be had at a reasonable price, is always inexpensive; when the price is unusually low, you get even greater-than-usual value. Because, though the price is lower the quality remains the same; you simply get more for your money.

Scholle quality in furniture is meant to be best quality; it comes at various prices, according to the design, and the elaboration of the work; but so far as the inner merit is concerned, that's always there.

But we don't expect you to take our word for that, unsupported. If by any chance you are not wholly satisfied with what you buy here, we take it back and return your money.

GREEN SOUGHT IN SLAYING OF LABOR SLUGGER

The police were searching last night for Albert Green, butchers' union agent, in an attempt to clear up the shooting to death of William ("Red") Kinsella and the perhaps fatal wounding of a bystander at Liberty hall, 3429 Roosevelt road, on Monday night. Thirteen eyewitnesses have named Green as the slayer, according to Capt. James Gleason of the Fillmore street police.

When information pointed toward Green as the opponent of Kinsella in the gun battle, which threw a union conference in the hall into panic, Capt. Gleason assigned every available member of his command to the search. A message, with minute description of the fugitive, was broadcast to all police stations.

Paul Rodin, 18 years old, "innocent bystander" victim, may die, physicians at St. Anthony's hospital said. Rodin was mounting the stairway when a wild bullet struck him in his left shoulder and penetrated the lung. The thirteen witnesses questioned were members of the executive board of the Hebrew local of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butchers' union. They agreed, Capt. Gleason said, that Kinsella, known for years as a notorious west side gangster and "trouble maker," had come to the hall intoxicated and insisted upon thrusting himself into the meeting. Kinsella has recently been serving an aid to Green. "Kinsella was very drunk and became abusive. Green ordered him out," said Max Weiss, 1213 Roosevelt road, vice president of the union. "Kinsella reached for his gun, but Green beat him to it. Kinsella fell without firing a shot." Leon Hancock, head of the United Hebrew Trades, denied Kinsella was connected with the union. Kinsella, as a member of the notorious "Valley gang," accumulated a long police record. An inquest will be opened today at Bradley's morgue, 1820 West Harrison street.

OPEN PROJECT TO TEACH CHILDREN "HEALTH GOSPEL"

"Propaganda"—something which became popular during the war—is to be restored to by the National Tuberculosis association in its nation-wide campaign for the dissemination of health education. Plans for this campaign were formulated at yesterday's session of the association in Hotel La Salle.

"We are going to get down to the root of the disease evil," said Dr. Linley H. Williams, managing director of the association, "by stamping it out among children. We hope to do this by educating them through propaganda. We are going to try to spread the gospel of good health habits."

A discussion of nutrition work in the public schools took up the afternoon's program. Establishment of clinics in public schools to care for pupils is to be outlined at today's meeting.

Clemenceau Begins to Write Book on Philosophy

PARIS, Feb. 27.—[United News.]—Georges Clemenceau has decided to live for about fifteen years yet because he has just started in to write a monumental work of philosophy by which he hopes to be judged by posterity.

Every spoonful of Kellogg's Bran helps free you from toxic poisons!

Constipation is largely responsible for auto-intoxication that leads to dangerous diseases unless it is not only checked but permanently relieved. Constipation, in fact, is the basis of a majority of human ailments which could be headed off if people would only help rid themselves of this serious, health-undermining condition, which can be easily done.

Constipation must be fought to a finish—not with pills and cathartics, which are dangerous to the delicate membranes of the intestines and temporary at best—but with nature's greatest cereal health food—Bran—Kellogg's Bran, which is as delicious as it is beneficial.

Kellogg's Bran is wonderful in its work because it is ALL BRAN. And, to get permanent relief, ALL

BRAN is a necessity, for it is the "bulk" of Kellogg's Bran that sweeps and purifies, ridding the system of poisons and bringing conditions to normal. Eat Kellogg's Bran regularly—at least two table-spoonfuls daily, as much with each meal in chronic cases—and we guarantee that you will get relief permanently and naturally.

Kellogg's Bran is delicious. You do not have to learn to like it. Eat it as a cereal or sprinkle on or mix with hot or cold cereals. Or, cook it with hot cereals, allowing two table-spoonfuls for each person. Kellogg's makes wonderful muffins, griddle cakes, raisin bread, macaroons, etc. Recipes on package.

Leading hotels, clubs and restaurants serve Kellogg's Bran in individual packages. All grocers.

Exide BATTERIES

The laundry, the baker, and the ice cream maker

HAVE you noticed the great increase on the city streets of those busy trucks that make deliveries from door to door and do it all with such silent efficiency? They are propelled by storage batteries—powerful Exide Batteries—and their unique service is becoming generally recognized by department stores, laundries, and other businesses that have short hauls and frequent stops to make.

There is scarcely a kind of transportation in which Exide Batteries do not play an important part. They light railroad trains and operate switches. They propel those man-saving, burden-bearing little industrial trucks and tractors that you see in railroad stations and modern industrial plants.

Airplanes use Exide Batteries for the spark of ignition. A majority of the world's submarines are propelled under the sea by huge Exides. Beneath the surface of the ground Exides run the locomotives that gather coal.

For your automobile

Of all the Exide Batteries used in transportation, perhaps the one that interests you most is the battery that starts and lights your automobile. The first electric-starting car used an Exide, and more cars leave the manufacturers' hands today equipped with Exides than with any other battery.

Ruggedness and power are built into the Exide Battery. It keeps its youth and lasts so long in continuous service that it is the most economical battery for you to own. There is a nearby Exide Service Station where you can get the right size Exide for your car.

Inquiries about batteries other than automobile batteries should be addressed to our

Rents Her Room With
"Tell More" Ad

MRS. B. had an extra room in her apartment to rent, so she inserted the following ad in The Tribune:

TO RENT — 000 MARQUETTE RD.—LADY has room to rent to lady.

After this ad had run in The Tribune a representative of the paper phoned Mrs. B. and asked her what results she had obtained from her ad. Mrs. B. had not rented the room and was apparently very discouraged. The Tribune Adtaker suggested to her that a more complete description of her comfortable room, a little more information as to location, etc., would give the Want Ad a much better chance of producing good results. Mrs. B. consented to the "tell more" idea and ran the following ad:

000 W. MARQUETTE RD., 1ST—LADY HAS room, fur. outside rm., 1 or 2 bds. elec. priv. home, board out, good trans.

When The Tribune operator phoned Mrs. B. the day after her ad ran she was told that not only was the room promptly rented on the same day that the ad ran, but Mrs. B. could have rented the room twice over. "The more you tell, the quicker you sell."

SHIPPING BOARD TRIES SALVAGING STRANDED FLEET

BY GRAFTON WILCOX.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 27.—(Special.)—The shipping board spent all day today perfecting details of the plan for operation of the government owned fleet, now that subsidy legislation is doomed. Unless present arrangements are changed the complete plan will be made public next Monday.

Chairman Lusk refused to discuss the details, but it was indicated especially at the White House that the plan involved liquidation and operation of the government vessels by private companies. There was nothing official to support a report that the plan contemplates the sale of the vessels in operation to managing agents on a basis of low terms.

The shipping board has the authority to dispose of the vessels on terms which it decides will be in the interest of the American merchant marine. It may extend the time for final payment on any vessel sold for fifteen years.

Will Salvage What He Can.

While President Harding was greatly disappointed at the failure of the ship-plug bill to reach a vote in the senate, particularly as the bill had a majority in favor of it, the failure of the administration program, it was declared, would not lead to inaction. Every effort will be made to aid the merchant marine under existing law and without aid from congress.

The administration's policy of liquidation and adjustment will entail no change whatever relative to section 34 of the Jones act, which relates to abrogation of commercial treaties. The administration will not invoke that section of the law.

Vote Today on Recommendation.

The senate, after another day of post-mortem discussion of the subsidy bill, tonight entered into a unanimous consent agreement for a vote at 1 o'clock tomorrow on the motion of Senator Robinson (Dem. Ark.) to recommit the bill. The agreement was entered into at the instance of Senator Jones (Rep. Wash.), and with the approval of Senator Robinson.

"We ought to get this cadaver out of the senate and take up a live subject," said Senator Robinson. Although Senator Robinson had been willing to have a vote taken on his motion at any time, other senators seemed disposed to drag out the discussion with a view to reducing the prospects for the enactment of other legislation, such as the filled milk bill. After the vote is taken on the Robinson motion tomorrow, it is expected the senate will turn to other legislation. While defeat of the Robinson motion is likely, the advocates of the ship subsidy bill will join in a move to take up another measure.

JOHNS HOPKINS TO LET M'KOLIN RESUME SCHOOL

Baltimore, Md., Feb. 27.—Permission has been granted by faculty members of Johns Hopkins Medical school, for Dr. B. M. McKolin, former mayor of Mer Rouge, La., to continue his post graduate work at that institution.

The readmission of Dr. McKolin to the medical school has been a matter of controversy between the physician and medical school authorities, who intimated that the doctor's return would probably cause undue publicity to fall upon the institution growing out of his alleged implication in the Morehouse parish murders and kidnappings of last August.

A statement issued by medical authorities tonight said that to refuse readmission to Dr. McKolin "would, undoubtedly prove a very serious handicap" to him and also "might prove to be a great injustice."

CAPITAL FORMS ANTI-FLIRT CLUB; NOT ALTRUISTIC

Washington, D. C., Feb. 27.—(Special.)—A passive offensive against the curbstone loiterer and flirtatious motorist will be launched in Washington by the Anti-Flirt club the week of March 4, that period to be known as "Anti-Flirt week."

The anti-flirt club was organized a short time ago, according to Miss Helen Brown, secretary, by a group of young women and girls who have been "embarrassed by men in automobiles and on street corners."

The club plans to bring before every woman's and girls' organization in the city the facts regarding flirting as they have found them and to request these bodies to give over the week of March 4 to serious discussion and consideration of all phases of the subject. The club has adopted a set of "don'ts" which are to be sent to other women's organizations with the request they be adopted. The admonitions are: "Don't flirt! Those who flirt in haste repent in leisure."

"Don't let elderly men, with an eye to a flirtation, put you on the shoulder and take a fatherly interest in you. Those are the kind that usually want to forget they are fathers."

"Don't go out with men you don't know—they may be married and you may be in for a hair pulling match."

"Don't accept rides from motorists. They don't all invite you in to save you a walk."

"Don't wink. A flutter of one eye may cause a tear in the other."

"Don't annex all the men you can get, and by flirting with many you may lose out on the one."

"Don't ignore the man you are sure of while you flirt with another. When you return to the first one you may find him gone."

Yellow Cab

Built on a Big Idea

The Decency of the Original Thought which inspired the creation of YELLOW CAB, has built such a cab service as the world never knew before. It has led to complete evolution of the cab business.

It has led to the development of a class of drivers who have no counterparts in industrial history—and to the kind of loyalty which countless corporations have dreamed about but have never had.

We felt—we almost knew—that a cab company could be organized which would treat its employees, stockholders and the public decently, and thus be able to regenerate a calling which had hitherto been regarded with supreme disgust.

It was a remarkable thing that able business men had no faith in the Thought and regarded it as a dream impossible of fulfillment. What will we call their attitude, lack of vision? Didn't they know that good treatment of associates almost invariably is followed by benefits?

Yet, this industry has been built on that Thought. It has become the greatest taxi-cab company in the world. And it has opened the eyes of Captains of Industry who have always adhered to the old Master and Man theory and the Rule of Iron.

This could not have been accomplished if the hearts and minds of ninety-nine and nine-tenths of our employees had not been with us.

The thinking fellow calls a Yellow

Both Winter and Summer— 451 Makes of Cars

POLARINE lubricates perfectly—in cold weather and in hot—451 different makes of passenger cars, trucks and tractors. No matter how extreme the change of temperature—the grade of Polarine indicated in the Chart will remain of the right viscosity. It will spread rapidly. It will form a perfect film between the moving frictional surfaces. It will insure long life to the bearings; complete protection to piston and cylinder.

Changing to Polarine has saved many a motorist hundreds of dollars a year in repair bills. Yet Polarine costs little, if any, more than the lubricant you are using now.

Use Polarine

THE PERFECT MOTOR OIL

Made in Five Grades

It outstrips any lubricant on the market in maintaining its body through any extreme of temperature. Its elasticity and adhesiveness cause a perfect seal and complete lubrication at all motor speeds and temperatures.

Don't fool yourself into fancied security, by thinking, "Oh, the oil I'm using works all right—why bother to change? It's just as good!" There is no "just as good," or even "second best" lubrication. There is one right lubricant for your car. It is specified in the Chart. When you do not use this lubricant, you fail to get the maximum of economy, efficiency and saving of wear on your engine. Change your motor oil every 500 miles—it is the essence of economy.

Remember the resources—the experience—the scientific experts of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) are behind every gallon of Polarine sold. This means maintained quality—at all seasons, in all temperatures—and everywhere throughout 10 Middle Western States.

BLAINE RESCUES WISCONSIN GUARD FROM ABOLITION

Senate to Kill House Bill, Following Message.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—Gov. J. J. Blaine came to the defense of the Wisconsin National Guard today with an extended special message which he sent to the legislature when it convened. The message declared the state's military organization was extolled and its continuance at a strength to meet federal requirements was urged by the executive.

This stand of Gov. Blaine means final death to any attempt at abolition of the guard. It assures a strong move to protect the guard against a cut in appropriation that will require the adjutant general to muster out forces already enlisted.

The Polakowski bill passed by the lower house comes up in the senate for a vote Thursday. The Hirsch bill providing also for the abolishment of the guard comes up in the senate for a committee hearing Thursday. Both bills will be killed.

Asks War Referendum.
Following the reading of the message a resolution was introduced in the state senate by Senator A. E. Carey (Prog., Edgerton) asking that a referendum of the people of the nation be held on the question of war before any declaration of congress be made effective.

After disposing of the argument that the state guard leads to militarism and is provocative of war with a statement that "the national guard of Wisconsin has no relationship whatever to the causes of war," Gov. Blaine went into a detailed consideration of the expense of maintaining the organization.

"It is not necessary to extol or glorify war to justify the retention of the militia," Gov. Blaine said.
"The abolishment of the national guard will not have a tendency to outlaw war. If Wisconsin were to abolish the national guard and such action were followed by the great majority of other states and war were to come the abolishment of the guard would not prevent war."

Argument for Constabulary.
Gov. Blaine declared that if the national guard were abolished a strong argument would be added for the proponent of a state constabulary, as proposed in a bill now before the senate. He said that the guard had two purposes, one purely domestic and the other being that of national defense.

While stating that "Wisconsin can maintain a national guard in excess of its quota for which federal funds have been provided at a sum of $300,000 annually, or less," it should be kept in mind, however, he said, "that the young men who enlisted in the guard have been performing substantially gratuitous services and they have given their time and their effort voluntarily. To muster out a large quota at once would entail the keenest disappointments, resulting almost in hardship to some of the young men."

"To maintain a state militia within the limitations set out above is to discharge our full obligations and on the other hand, contribute toward the discouragement of militarism," the governor concluded.

Wisconsin Guard Praised.
The movement to abolish the guard "cannot be in accordance with the mature judgment of the people of Wisconsin," Maj. Gen. W. G. Haan, commander of Wisconsin troops in the World war said today in a message from Washington to Gov. Blaine.

"The worth of the Wisconsin guard, its standing before the war at the head of all others, its rating with the first three divisions in France and its place of honor on the Rhine speak for themselves," Gen. Haan declared.

"I cannot believe that the pride the good people of Wisconsin showed in their boys upon their return from the late war can be truly reflected in the proposed hasty action."

Specialist Examines Eyes of President Harding
Washington, D. C., Feb. 27.—President Harding today visited the office of Dr. W. H. Wilmer, a noted eye specialist here, and had his eyes examined. At the White House it was said the President's eyes were not bothering him but that in view of the fact that he has had his present glasses for four years he thought it desirable to see if a change were needed.

C.T. BOYNTON, ONE OF CITY LEADERS IN BUSINESS, DIES

Financial Career Begun as Office Boy.

Charles T. Boynton, a notable figure in the commercial life of Chicago, died suddenly yesterday morning from pneumonia at his home at 1111 North Dearborn street.

Mr. Boynton was born in West Stockbridge, Mass., in 1858. He left school at the age of 13, to become a clerk in a grocery store. He came to Chicago when 21 and became an office boy with the Washburn & Moen Manufacturing company, eventually rising to general manager. He held that position until the sale of the company to the American Steel and Wire company, when he became president of the Shelby Steel and Tube company.

Mr. Boynton had been vice president of Pickands, Brown & Co., dealers in pig iron and coke. He was also a director and a member of the executive committee of the Continental and Commercial National bank and Trust and Savings bank, vice president of the By-Products Coke corporation, and director of the Consumers company, Buck & Rayner, the Dearborn company, and the Continental Securities company.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Annie Boynton, two daughters, Mrs. Everett L. Millard and Miss Edith Boynton, and one son, Donald S. Boynton. Funeral services will be held at his home at 2 p. m. tomorrow.

Job Fish, 94, Father of Traction Official, Dies
Job Fish of Berlin Heights, O., father of William Fish, general manager of the Chicago Surface lines, died yesterday at Des Plaines. He lacked just a few days of being 95 years old. In addition to William Fish he is survived by two other sons, Prof. John C. L. Fish of Stanford university and Albert E. Fish of Wakarusa, O., and three daughters, Florence and Mary S. Fish of Berlin Heights and Mrs. C. F. McClure of La Grange.

MARY ALICE FEEHAN, known as Sister Mary Ambrose of St. Patrick's academy, died Monday at the age of 55. She was the daughter of the late Dr. Edward Feehan of St. Louis and niece of the late Archbishop Patrick Feehan of Chicago, and Mother Katherine Feehan of the Order of Mercy of Chicago. For twenty-one years she had charge of the senior academic work in the academy.

GEORGE A. SMITH, 55 years old, head of a wagon manufacturing firm on the west side, established by his father more than sixty years ago, died yesterday at the family home, 314 South Robey street. Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon from the home. Burial will be at Forest home.

MRS. SARAH GITELSON, 86 years old, a resident of Chicago since 1871, died yesterday at her home, 4521 South Michigan avenue. Funeral services will be conducted from the home tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. Burial will be in Waldheim cemetery.

OAK PARK LIEUTENANT, EX-RANCHER, CAPTURES DIAMOND PRIZE SHOOT

Lieut. Fred R. Onthank of the Oak Park police department won the diamond medal award by the Oak Park Real Estate board at the annual police shooting contest held on Monday at the range in Oak Park. Lieut. Onthank's score was 587, with thirty shots made in the dark. It was announced yesterday.

Onthank left the ranks of the Oak Park police department several years ago to become a rancher in the range of Edgar Rice Burroughs, author of "Tarzan," but returned to the police force in Oak Park. Chief Leon Magrath is enthusiastic over the shooting matches, which he hopes will make his men 100 per cent marksmen.

Third Generation is Using Syrup Pepsin

No other Laxative can replace Dr. Caldwell's in the confidence of those who use it

THERE are thousands of healthy, robust young men and women who have never in all their lives taken any other laxative for constipation than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Their parents were given by their parents; the grandparents are using it today. It is the one laxative ideally suited to all the family, safe for the little ones, effective in grownups, so compounded that elderly people, who are constantly forced to take a laxative because the intestinal muscles are weakening, find increased dosage unnecessary. This wonderful constipation remedy has been used continuously for 30 years, and over 10 million bottles are now sold annually, the largest selling family laxative in the world. The cost averages but a cent a dose. Every druggist sells it, and under a guarantee to do as claimed or your money will be refunded.

Millions of carefully conducted homes are never without a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

JURY GIVES U. S. $293,602 AWARD IN OLEO TRIAL

Use of sulphur in coloring oleomargarine so that it appeared to be butter cost the G. H. Hammond company $293,602 yesterday, a jury returning a verdict against them for that amount in a civil suit brought by the internal revenue department.

The jury upheld the government's contention that the Hammond company had evaded payment of the tax of 10 cents per pound on colored oleomargarine by listing its sales as of the uncolored variety on which the tax is only a fraction of one cent. Similar suits are pending against the William J. Moxley company and the Friedman company.

You will be amazed to see how the use of "Bull" Durham will out down the cost of your smoking.

How is it possible to give you quality at the low cost of 10 cents for 50 cigarettes?

Here's one reason: The government tax alone on 50 machine-made cigarettes is 15 cents—5 CENTS MORE THAN THE COST OF 50 "BULL" DURHAM CIGARETTES TO YOU!

The average smoker saves $1 to $1.50 a week by "rolling his own" from "Bull"—or from $52 to $78 a year. This makes quite a Christmas fund—or pays for a fine trip.

The Marriage Flaw

By ROY VICKERS

SYNOPSIS.
John Corboney is devoted to Sylvia, his second wife, and their young son. He is one of the great financiers, and just after his appointment to the cabinet his first wife, Katherine, whom he had divorced because of her unfaithfulness, threatens to reopen their divorce case on a technicality unless he returns to live with her as her husband. He goes back to her in order to avoid staining Sylvia's honor and his son's name, and to stiffen Sylvia's back to the blow by arousing her pride, and she has been lured away by the other woman. His disappearance.

Corboney, Sylvia's guardian, announces that Corboney is ill. After a month Corboney's absence creates a slight panic in the financial world. There is a run on an important bank, and out of curiosity Corboney goes to the scene. He has changed his appearance slightly, but Sylvia sees and accuses him. He denies that he is Corboney. Corboney apologizes, but Sylvia is so sure of her husband's return that she is not deceived. Corboney's presence is a great financial crisis. Corboney consents. Sylvia agrees to the arrangement, and, although she knows he is her husband, she will not permit him to explain.

Katherine, who is evidently being coached in her part, objects to his double role of Corboney in town and in the country, and renews her threats. John insists on carrying out his agreement with Sylvia and Katherine. He discloses the double role, and Katherine, who is a power in politics, is his chief enemy and that is he who has induced Katherine to take action against him. A public scandal is threatened, but John and Sylvia agree to face it rather than have him return before his work is finished. Sylvia bravely sets for herself the task of unraveling the mystery surrounding John's actions. Reason the detective and his partner help her. They discover that the real J. W. Corboney had impersonated Lord Henry Granham eleven years ago.

CHAPTER LXXXI.
SYLVIA PREPARES FOR THE SACRIFICE.
Lord Corboney felt not a little insulted that the Daily Post had applied to Corboney's solicitor. Moreover, it was beginning to dawn upon him that, quite apart from the ceaseless conflict in his own mind, the whole exposure was going to be difficult. He had anticipated trouble with Sylvia and, possibly, Sylvia; but apparently the very opening was bristling with the hostility of those who should be merely the instruments of his will.

"Well, Bayliss, I don't know why the Daily Post has dragged you into it in the first instance," he began as soon as the solicitor was announced. "I suppose you want to go into it with me."

"It's a jolly good thing for you, Lord Corboney, they did drag me in. You've struck a mare's nest. I don't know how you tumbled on this wonderful idea, but it's dead wrong."

Lord Corboney had had dealings with Bayliss on Corboney's recommendation and shared the latter's belief in his professional ability. For this reason he matched at his temper and held it.

"I'll start off by telling you, Mr. Bayliss, that I engineered the whole thing from the beginning," he said. "It was a fool thing to do, and I expect I'll be broken for doing it. But I wanted to save the nation. I—"

"Pardon me," cut in Bayliss. "There's no possibility of doubt in the matter."

"Listen, damn you!" exploded Lord Corboney. "Three months ago Corboney deserted his wife for another woman—"

"Led her to believe that he had deserted her. His first wife coerced him into doing it," corrected Bayliss. "There was a flaw in Corboney's first divorce—or he thought there was—and he'd never have known better if Mrs. Corboney hadn't put the whole thing right for him while he was in Paris."

All Corboney's intuitions and emotions and instincts and prejudices rose up and turned gray somersaults inside his head and froze the words of mockery upon his lips.

"This is the thing in detail," said Bayliss.

The story came tumbling out.

Throughout the day that followed his return from Paris, John Corboney had been conscious of a subtle difference in the atmosphere at the ministry. Bayliss, he was quite sure, had told nobody. The "Plain Man" could hardly be suspected of advertising its own collapse—nor could one suppose that, had it done so, the news would have penetrated to Whitehall. Yet the permanent secretary had been as nearly obsequious as a permanent secretary can ever be. A note from the prime minister, flattering informal, asked him to lunch on the following day. The policeman at the door seemed to salute him with a new zest.

It was some time before he realized that the change was in himself. It was as if he had been wearing a shade above his eyes and seen only that which had been pushed directly into his line of vision. Now the shade was gone; he could look round and up, unhampered. His soul shouted within him as he felt upon his work. In a couple of hours he had set a dozen new balls rolling which were destined to make financial history. The day was past.

"What's the time?"
He asked Miss Fellowes. "Four o'clock." I can't see any one else today," he took his hat. "I'm leaving now, Miss Fellowes, and shall return today. A pulse hammering her mouth to say something, but closed it again.

"Good-bye," she said, much too softly for him to hear. She watched him swing from the room.

Corboney went to his chambers. Sylvia was not expecting him till half past four. He waited time for ten minutes on tasks of a trivial nature, then took his hat and went to the door. There a pulse hammering came to him. He hesitated, frowning. Then, half reluctantly, he went back to his bedroom and found the coat he had been wearing when Deagle called. Corboney fumbled in the pocket and found the letter Deagle had left with him. He stood for a few seconds, weighing the package meditatively in his hand. Then he slipped it into his pocket. As a result of his meditations he arrived at Corboney House two minutes late and unreasonably flustered thereby.

"Mrs. Corboney is in the study, sir."

Corboney made for the study. His nervousness rushed him into speech almost as he opened the door.

"I'm a bit behind hand. Sorry! Left things until the last moment!"
Sylvia was sitting in the big chair by the hearth. A small wood fire was burning, and its fragrance strayed up and out into the room. It seemed to claim Sylvia's attention deeply. She neither moved nor spoke.

Corboney, brought to a stammering halt, looked at her hungrily. Presently she would—she must—look up. A pulse hammering in his wrist. He would stride across to her, when her eyes met his, and pull her up out of that great dark chair and kiss her—kiss her. Words could come afterwards. Let his kisses and hers banish the last shred of that grim pretense that need never have been. He would laugh, with her, to think that it need never have been.

Sylvia looked up. Her eyes were quite expressionless. She smiled with her lips.

"Did you have a good crossing?" And then, as he was speechless, "here's tea. On that low table, Woodhams, please."

Corboney saw a chair and sat down on it. Woodhams was arranging hot water and things. Sylvia had asked him if he had had a good crossing. Corboney replied that he had. He added the information that the train had been on time. He talked about the train until Woodhams left the room.

Sylvia was pouring out the tea. Her silence gave Corboney time. After all, he had had no real reason to suppose that she had ever doubted his statement of having been "drawn from her side." He had drifted into the belief that she knew of his unwillingness to leave her; her acknowledged comradeship had seemed to imply it, and her relinquishing of the absurd "Mr. Brierly" formula, and her hint that she was working on his behalf. But when all this was analyzed, admitted Corboney, it only came to this: that she thought of him as physically infatuated with another woman even while everything else in him needed her still. So that, of course, words must come first, before he could touch even her hands. Words. He felt them somehow as dull and useless things.

"Sylvia."

Sylvia had filled one cup. The amber stream she was directing into the other shook and spilled aside into the saucer.

"Well, John?"
"Ah!" ejaculated Corboney.

Again their eyes met. Her use of his name had started that pulse once more. His hands burned and his throat was dry. He couldn't see her properly with the firelight against her profile and the shadows of the chair.

"Will you take your tea?" said Sylvia.

Corboney took the tea, held it for a moment uncertainly, then put it on the floor, remembered that she had in the past objected to that practice, and removed it to the table out of his reach. A sense of bafflement was rising in him. He knew it was unreasonable, since he had not yet even begun to explain, but he found himself launched.

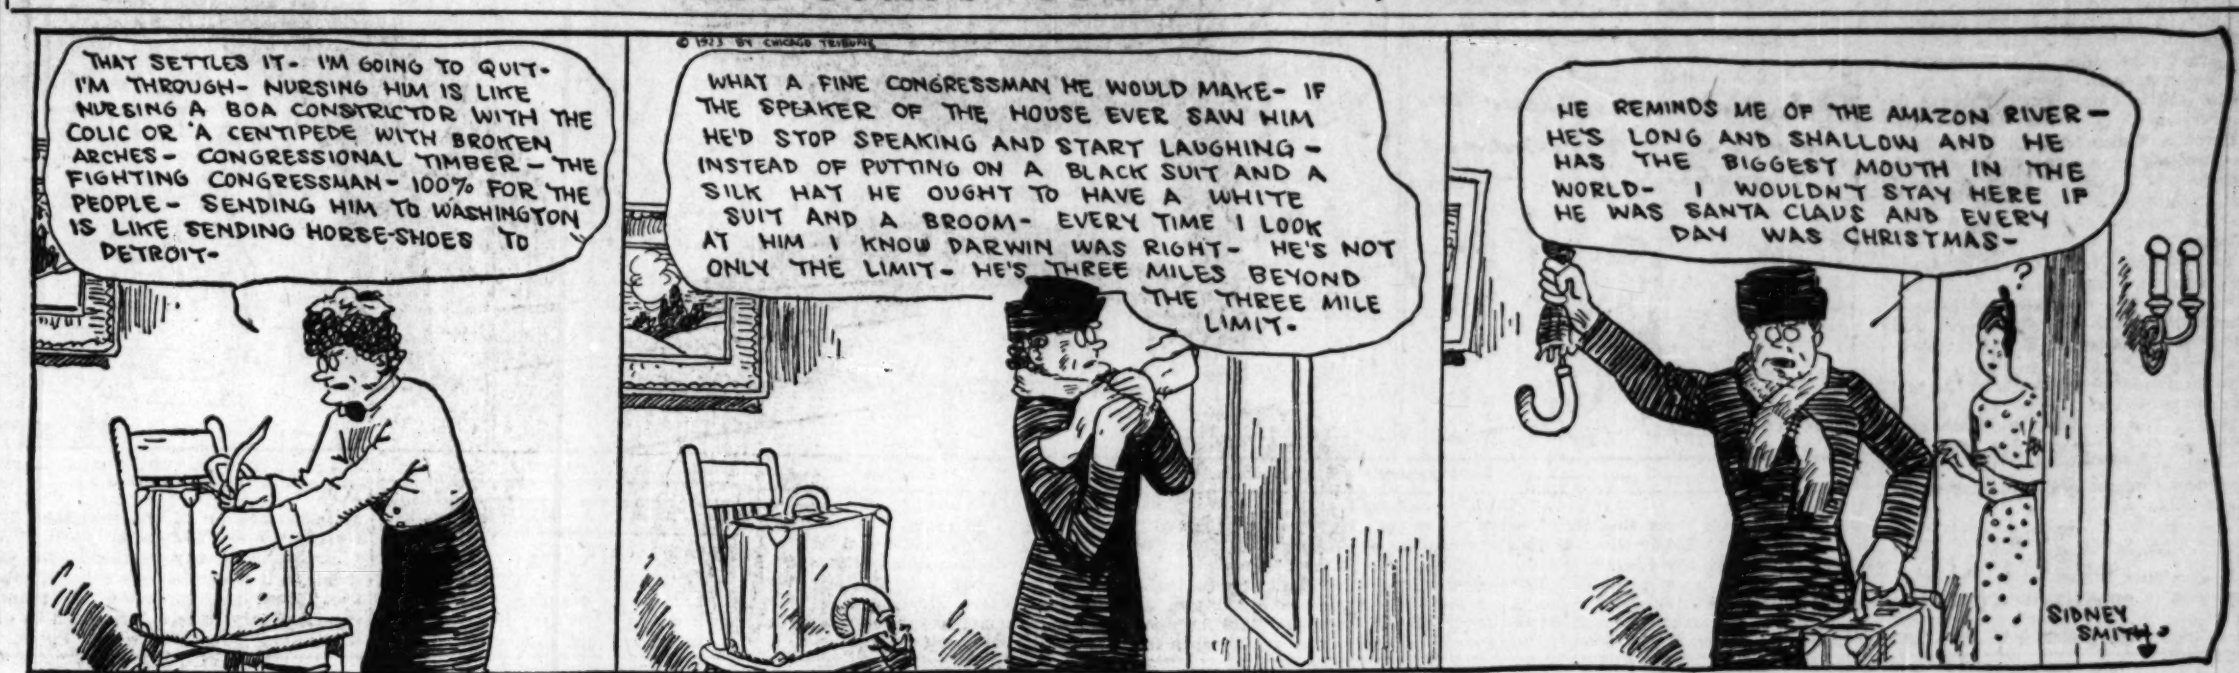

"As it so happens, you were infinitely wise to postpone our discussion last night. We were—both on the edge of destruction then; now, everything's safe again. So safe that my explanation of everything that has happened—my own personal problem as well as such incidents as Deagle and the 'Plain Man'—will probably sound tame and unconvincing."

"O no," said Sylvia colorlessly. She stirred her tea.

Good morning!
Sit up and take notice! Here's a good picture! It's a funny picture! It's a clever picture! It will put the skids under Lugubrious Blue and send Little Joe Worry for a high dive off suicide bridge. It is neat, snappy, fast, appealing comedy in which Harold Lloyd leaps to a place on the platform with Charles Chaplin. He's been on the steps leading up to the platform for a long time. Now, he's there, standing side by side, figuratively speaking, slipping from the same glass with Charles Spencer, figuratively charming with his opening "Ladies and Gentlemen," and holding his audience captivated to the last (figuratively speaking). "And finally."

In "Dr. Jack," Harold Lloyd proves himself a super-comedian, in that he insistently appeals to the sympathies as well as the risibilities. He keeps you laughing at him, but rooting for him. THAT'S the secret of the Chaplin charm.

There's sense as well as nonsense to the story of the picture. A young girl who has once been ill falls into the clutches of a physician, who insists on KEEPING her ill. His principal source of revenue is her wealthy father, who, devoted to his daughter, takes the doctor's word for it that she must be kept quiet in darkened rooms; attended by solicitous nurses; prevented from the slightest exertion. The doctor lives in the house and sees that his orders are carried out. The result is a frail creature with no resistance; a frightened father and much MUCH money for Dr. Von Sarsburg, who, by suggestion, keeps father and daughter in a perpetual state of misery.

CLOSEUPS

Mack Bennett has started a big producing campaign. Phyllis Haver is working on her first starring vehicle, "The Extra Girl." Billy Bevan is stewing about over "Domestic Economy." Ben Turpin will begin work in a few days on a comedy in which he will be the all-star cast. AND, it is said, the former "Sennett Bathing Beauties" have been replaced with a bunch of super-beauties guaranteed to take any man to a movie show and to make any man's wife take him out.

"The Pilgrim," the new Chaplin comedy, comes next week to the Roosevelt. In it for the eighteenth time Edna Purviance will appear as Mr. Chaplin's leading woman. It is said by those on the "inside" that the Purviance-Chaplin relationship is one of the rare platonic friendships of screendom.

Jackie Coogan will not be present at Marshall Field's photobook display Friday, as announced. It is announced by the store that "the announcement has been canceled unavoidably" and that as they do not "wish to disappoint anybody" announcement of said cancellation be made through this column.

His own. Much excitement and meriment ensue when he is called in consultation by an attorney, who has felt that all is not as should be. He is ordered off the case, but decides, for various reasons, to stay ON.

Insanity, dogs, Negroes, false hair, rugs, etc., now enter the case. See the picture for further details.

Throughout the picture is well acted and produced. It ought to brighten anybody's corner where they are. (Awful English—but more or less explicit—NIX!) Anyway, see "Dr. Jack."

See you tomorrow, at the Atlantic and Pacific—you know how 'tis.

Fred R. Jelliff of Galesburg, Ill., asserts that a statement printed in THE TRIBUNE, on Feb. 25, 1923, which said that Lincoln Henry Jelliff, his brother and a member of the Canadian parliament from Alberta, was a Mormon from Utah is not true. Mr. Jelliff says his brother is a native of Illinois, that he has never lived in Utah and that he is not a Mormon.

The Question.

Should America be represented at the permanent court of international justice established under the league of nations?

Where Asked.

Mezzanine floor, Hotel La Salle.

R. H. Decker, 1528 Berteau avenue, electrician—If we have any other accruing benefits, the economic position of this country is such that we can't afford to stay out of it. Our entrance into such a court might establish a relief that would be felt beyond measure for centuries.

Mrs. F. T. Madsen, 812 North 7th avenue, Maywood, housewife—If we have any regard for humanity at large our place is in that court. America should have been in the league of nations from the first. To be a nation of peace and then to evade our responsibilities.

El L. Hildebrand, 2300 West Madison street, Ford salesman—We are the new set nation, also the richest, and we should be represented in that court. We not only have an enormous sum of money invested in Europe, but Europe actually looks to us for our moral support.

Mrs. Imogene Remus, Cincinnati, O., housewife—America is the world's greatest nation financially and industrially. As I understand it, it is not our money but our brains that are most needed there. That's what this court calls for, and we ought to be there.

Edward S. Serech, Alexandria hotel, manufacturer—This court at the Hague is in its nature an international court of justice. That means its purpose is the maintenance of peace, and America should be represented. Harding's proposition makes it clear that no entangling alliances are to be made, and I agree with that.

The University of Illinois, and more particularly the graduates thereof, had their time at Orchestra hall last night, when the student concert band gave its concert, the second which has been presented in Chicago. It is an interesting movement in music, and one that gets results. The personnel of the band is chosen by competitive examination from the student body.

Albert Austin Harding is the conductor. He is both musician and disciplinarian, leading his forces through many kinds and degrees of music and enforcing its proper performance. His programs run to a higher percentage of serious music than almost any other concert band that can be named, but at the same time lighter pieces are so plentifully sprinkled as to suit all tastes. And the band plays exhilaratingly well.

Program of Chopin Given by Hofmann

U. of Illinois Band Wins Warm Approval.

BY EDWARD MOORE.

Josef Hofmann stopped off long enough in Chicago yesterday on a trip from the Pacific coast to New York to give a recital at the Shedd theater in the afternoon. He will present the same sort of program—one made up of the works of Chopin—in New York within the next few days.

In spite of the circumstances there was nothing experimental or resembling a rehearsal about his performance. In fact, one imagines that Mr. Hofmann stopped experimenting a long time ago, say about the year 1900. What one hears at one of his recitals nowadays is a completely ripened art, one in the fullest richness of maturity. He was always a magnificent pianist, and Chopin played with the Hofmann fingers, which are propelled by the Hofmann brains, becomes something altogether unusual and quite worth your attention.

On paper the program did not look like a long one, but it contained the twenty-four preludes as a single item, and did not include the waltzes, polonaises, études, and other pieces which Mr. Hofmann added as encores. For the audience was enthusiastic, and despite the hour, when teachers and pupils of the piano are likely to be occupied with other affairs, there were plenty of Chopin scores being read while he was playing them.

The preludes are an enormous test of a pianist's ability, and it was in them that Mr. Hofmann made his greatest success.

AT THE PALACE Of Love and a Fat Man: 'Mr. Blimp'

Friendly Little Play Puts In at Olympic.

"MR. BLIMP."

A comedy in three acts by Conrad Westervelt. Presented at the Olympic theater Feb. 25, 1923. The cast:
Mary Standish.....Ann Davis
Rose Standish.....Marian Mears
Arabella.....Beatrice Bradley
James Barton Actor.....Leon Gordon
Robin Standish.....James Dyerforth
Sylvester Vane.....Jerome Cowan
Henry Waterson Blake.....Herbert Corbell
Fay Fothergill.....Jeanne Greene

BY SHEPPARD BUTLER.

There are many things to like about "Mr. Blimp." It is a friendly little play about understandable people, and it is acted by a pleasant company with an air of casual good nature that is rather disarming. Observing it, one perceives readily that it is full of faults, but finds one's self yielding to a temptation not to look for them.

You have seen plays like that. And people.

Here, lightly told, is the story of a fat man from Kentucky who has gone to the metropolis to see what is baffling his youthful family of wards. He used to fish with their father, and when the will was read he found himself their guardian. They are three in number—a serious minded young woman, a flapper, and a youth addicted to a small, stubby pipe.

They have been recognizing as co-executor a knowing and impeccably tailored Manhattanite who wants to bury the elder sister. He has a fine Mexican investment ready for them; all that is needed is the fat guardian's signature. "Mr. Blimp" is the latter's nickname, and blimpish, apparently, is his nature. He blunders and talks nonsense and stalls around, delaying things until the option expires, the deal falls through, and blimp seems indefinitely a synonym for boob.

Then it develops that the investment was all wrong; and would have been profitable only to the suave Manhattanite. Mr. Blimp, a wise owl after all, had been investigating. The serious sister's eyes are opened and she disapproves again a dictum that nobody loves a fat man.

The piece is loosely articulated and suffers from uncertainty as to mood. It doesn't quite know, seemingly, whether to be comic or sentimental. So Mr. Herbert Corbell, who plays the title role, indulges perforce in a good deal of mixed mood talk, which sits oddly on his droop complacency. Still, things amble along agreeably enough, and the effect, as a whole, is undeniably engaging.

Corbell's Kentuckian has little of the blue grass about him. It is a rough-drawn characterization, done in a rough-England manner and with no pretense about it—just Corbell, amiable, gruff, easy going, and mellow. Miss Ann Davis' curiously mournful ways make the elder sister likeably pathetic, and Miss Marian Mears flutters brightly as the flapper, contributing notably to the evening's gaiety. The role of the supposed co-executor is better played than it deserves by Leon Gordon, who seems to me a very good actor indeed.

MISS DRAPER'S MATINEES.
Miss Ruth Draper, an artist rapidly rising to fame as the foremost American actress, appeared yesterday in the first of a series of four matinees at the Harris theater. Seven character sketches of striking diversity comprised her program, the most pretentious of them being a new effort done in costume and entitled "At the Court of Philip IV. of Spain." She will present a different program tomorrow afternoon, and will appear on Wednesday and Tuesday of next week.

Holds "Big Tim's" Career Shows Need of Boy Scouts

"Big Tim" Murphy's remark, "No one took any interest in me when I was a kid," was quoted yesterday by G. B. Stephenson, chief executive of the Chicago council, Boy Scouts of America, to show what a different man the labor leader might have been if he had been brought under the influence of the Boy Scout organization when a youngster.

Headquarters were opened yesterday in the North American building for the promotion of the Boy Scouts' campaign, terminating in a four-day drive, March 26 to 29, for $115,000.

AIN'T IT A GRAND AND GLORIOUS FEELIN'?

STRONG UPTURN IN GRAIN VALUES; FINISH IS AT TOP

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

An overall condition was disclosed in the grain markets and with dry weather talk from western Kansas shorts became uneasy and at no time were wheat values as low as the finish of the previous day, the close being at the top with no gain of 1 1/2¢. Corn closed 1/2¢ higher, oats up 1/4¢, and rye 1/4¢ higher.

Wheat made its lowest figures at the start on weather selling but there was active buying of May at 1 1/2¢, by commission houses which finally absorbed the surplus in the pit. Sentiment was much less bearish as there were numerous reports from the west and south regarding a betterment in the flour demand and also improvement in the foreign demand for Manitoba. There was little pressure of the market a good part of the day, but it was not until afternoon that shorts started to cover generally.

A crop scare is in the making in the west, and dry weather talk from western Kansas and Nebraska with fears of damage in the wheat crop have had considerable influence on values. The May-July spread narrowed to 2 1/2¢ at the last, about the smallest discount on the crop. Export sales in the positions at the board aggregated 400,000 bu, mainly Manitoba. Liverpool closed unchanged to 1/4¢ lower, but the decline was offset by a higher rate of exchange.

Local Bulls Buy Corn.

Strength in wheat, a betterment in the export demand and persistent buying of local bulls was responsible for the upturn in corn. There was free selling at times by a local trader but the offerings were readily absorbed. An increase of 2,000,000 bu. in the available supply for the week had no effect. Demand in the sample market was fairly good with the basis a trifle firmer.

Liquidation was on in May oats early credited to a cash house but the market was finally placed and toward the last prices advanced sharply. Southern demand for oats was reported as somewhat better and outside markets outside Chicago equal to 2¢ per bushel. North American available supplies are 44,000,000 bu. less than last year.

There was talk of a fairly good export business in rye with a cargo claimed to have been sold from the seaboard late Monday, and further sales made during the day. Strength in other grains was the main influence in making the advance, however. The two northwestern markets had 69 cars.

Cash Interests Buy Barley.

Removal of hedges against sales of lard for export the previous day with the strength in hog and grain made a higher level, lard closing 1 1/2¢ to 1 1/4¢ higher, and ribs were up 1/4¢. Selling was scattered. Prices follow:

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

Upture in grain price yesterday was generally attributed by traders to an overall condition, but it was noticeable that houses with southwestern connections bought considerable July and September wheat during the day, backing up the complaints of dry weather and of unfavorable crop conditions that have commenced to come from parts of that territory. Sentiment after the close was somewhat more bullish than of late, although commission houses generally expressed the belief that it was a little too early to start a crop scare.

There is an impression in the trade that the government report on farm reserves of corn will show relatively light holdings when it is given out on March 8. None of the private statisticians have indicated anything regarding their reports, but some of the local houses which have been making a quiet canvass as the country say returns are starting small stocks. This influenced some buying during the day.

A local man who has been talking very bullish on wheat at the time is basing his position to some extent on the fact that the appearance of grain since harvest. Statistics, he says, indicate that between 50,000,000 and 75,000,000 bu domestic wheat is unavailable.

Twenty cargoes of Argentine wheat are reported almost unused, according to a private cable from London. Other cables indicate Argentine wheat was piling for sale.

Cash wheat at Winnipeg continues to gain on the May. No. 1 northern was quoted yesterday at 2 1/2¢ under the future compared with 3 1/2¢ under a week ago.

"Wheat situation in Nebraska is bullish," said a letter from N. D. Update. Leading Omaha grain men "wills are taking all the wheat and paying 2 1/2¢ over Chicago parity. A sale of 85,000 bu durum was made for export via the Gulf Thursday, and more could have been sold had the grain been available."

World's available supply of wheat, as compiled by Bradstreet's, decreased 3,907,000 bu last week. Stocks east of the Rockies were reduced 555,000 bu, west of the Rockies 49,000 bu. Canada 1,383,000 bu, and about 2,000,000 bu. Corn in the United States and Canada increased 2,000,000 bu and was compared with 1,223,000 bu. Details follow:

RAILROAD UNION NOW SUCCESS AS BUSINESS BODY

BY SCRUTATOR.

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, next to the Brotherhood of the Big Four, which have celebrated so many years of headline birthday this year. Officials and members have begun to discuss a fitting centennial.

With 125,000 members, it pays over a million dollars per year in insurance claims. It is thus a business institution as well as a labor union. Corporations which have weathered fifty years successfully are interesting business subjects frequently discussed on financial pages. Perhaps a labor union might stand a little analysis from the business viewpoint.

Few appreciate the magnitude of the insurance business conducted by labor unions. The rail unions lead in this field. The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, because of its larger membership and insurance hazards, tops them all. It is now paying out over $300,000 in insurance claims every month, and its total payments since its organization amount to $14,000,000.

Firms or corporations with fifty years of success behind them rightly assume that they have proved their validity and value to society. Does a similar presumption attach to a labor organization? Open shop doctrinaires, who can see only parasitism in labor organization, will answer no. But such vitality in a parasite is seldom witnessed in nature.

It has always seemed to this writer that radical fustianists against all labor organizations that one can hear from business men are as intemperate and indiscriminate as the same sort of talk from rabid labor leaders. Labor admits that it has a lunatic fringe—the phrase was coined by Gompers. Perhaps some business men are extremists, too. From the historical perspective, labor unions are integral parts of the modern industrial system, with origin and history as valid as that of the business firm or corporation. Their more aberrant growth does not rule them out of the family. The roots of their history go back to the beginnings of the factory system, at least. They are a part of that very capitalism that so many of their leaders affect to denounce. They arose out of it, and with its passing they would die.

The fact that they have crimes and follies on their records no more rules them out of the industrial scheme than the follies and crimes of erring business men and corporations which have betrayed their stockholders or abused the public condemn the principle of individual or corporate business.

When an organization of 125,000 members can point to an uninterrupted existence of half a century, in which period its officers have conducted business negotiations involving hundreds of millions of dollars and carried on its own enterprises involving over a million annually, it is entitled to consideration as a business as well as a labor union. Many other unions have a similar status. The fact that fire-eaters in such organizations sometimes act and talk foolishly does not alter the essential facts of the case. The firemen's brotherhood, to be specific, has had plenty of fire-eaters. The obvious pun will be omitted. But it has been organized for fifty years as an insurance company, a training school, and a labor supply agency.

It has played a great constructive role in the transportation industry, like its associated organizations. It conducts a technical course in its publications which makes engineers out of rookies. It has, from its birth, combatted alcoholism among its members, thus enhancing the efficiency and safety of the railroads.

Railroad organizations seldom strike—although they talk a lot about it in recent years. Those with large funds and valuable insurance assets and seniority rights are notably slow to leave rail service. From the radical viewpoint this impairs their proper functions. The radical views a labor union as a fighting unit to be used in making business impossible by strikes and sabotage. An army heavily laden with baggage has always been handicapped in a campaign. This explains the radical efforts to break up the older rail unions and merge them with more mobile elements who have little to lose.

Total operating revenues jumped from $9,974,817 in January, 1922, to $12,530,580 in January of this year. Total operating expenses also showed an increase from $8,300,960 in the first month of last year to $10,917,400 in January of this year.

Perhaps the strategy of industrial peace may ultimately be figured out from this basis. When labor unions become loaded up with investments in the corporations they serve, when they are thoroughly saturated with insurance, unemployment funds and cooperative enterprises their militancy will decrease in proportion. In theory, a labor union equipped with a big strike fund might be considered a greater menace to industrial peace. In fact, it has always been labor unions with empty treasuries which have put up the biggest fights and inflicted the most harm on themselves and the public. With a flowing treasury in 1919 the miners' strike flamed. In 1922 they were broke, but they tied up the mines all summer and at the finish they were sitting on top of the world—see President Harding's message.

Allied Chemical Absorbs By-Products Company

The Allied Chemical and Dye corporation has absorbed the By-Products Coke corporation, it was announced yesterday. Judge Kemper K. Knapp of Chicago was elected to the board of directors to succeed the late C. T. Boynton. President C. D. Caldwell of the By-Products company announced that the merger had been completed prior to the induction of the new directors. The By-Products company is selling its property of the Youngstown Steel and Tube company.

DRY GOODS AND GARMENT NEWS

(Copyright, 1923; Fairchild News Service.)

LONDON—Russian soviet republic will exhibit skins, flax, and other goods at the coming Lyon fair, but does not contemplate holding a fur sale in Lyon despite abandonment of plans to conduct public fur auctions in Leningrad early next month, according to a soviet house here.

NEW YORK—Many offers of increased prices for work on skirts are reported by the Skirt Contractors' association at end of the first day of the "strike." Stoppage will continue. Contractors believe it will be of short duration.

BERLIN—German chemical secrets will be turned over to the French under a deal reported here. Badische Anilin und Sodafabrik, Germany's largest dye producer, is said to be planning the erection in Toulouse, France, of a nitrate plant, and to give formulae for manufacture of synthetic nitrates to the French for 5,000,000 francs.

NEW YORK—Calcutta cables today reported the burlap market there slightly easier, with 8 ounce goods at 7c and 10 1/2 ounce goods at 8.50c. The local market continues inactive. Rates appear firm at 7.25c for 8 ounce and 8.75c for 10 1/2 ounce, but there is no business to test out these figures.

From his letter Mr. Edwin Farnham Greene, President, further summarizes as follows:

BUSINESS: The Company's business, which started in 1832, comprises (1) Engineering and Management of industrial plants, particularly textile mills, and (2) ownership in stocks of various well-known textile mills, including mills under its management. It has now acquired all the assets of The Greelock Company (41% of whose stock it previously owned) and thus directly owns a controlling interest in Lancaster Mills, International Cotton Mills and Roxbury Carpet Company, a one-half interest in Winnboro Mills common stock and also large investments in stocks of Pacific Mills and The Lawton Mills Corporation.

SECURITY: These Notes will be the direct obligation of Lockwood, Greene & Co., Inc., secured by pledge of capital stocks as follows:

	Amount Pledged		Present Valuation		Present Dividend Rate
	Par Value	Outstanding	Per Share	Amount
Pacific Mills,	$4,000,000	100%	$97.50	$3,900,000	6%

International Cotton Mills, Common,*	5,000,000	69.3%	*19.00	1,900,000
Roxbury Carpet Co., Common,	520,000	52%	160.00	520,000
Total				$12,420,000	$10,605,000

*Par $50 per share.

In 1922 Lancaster Mills paid an extra cash dividend of 10% making 20% paid in that year.

ASSETS: Total net assets of the Company, upon completion of this financing are valued at $12,433,354 or more than twice this issue of $6,000,000 Notes. Present valuation of pledged collateral alone ($10,605,000) is more than 1 1/2 times this issue.

EARNINGS: For 6 years ending December 31, 1922, the Company's net earnings, combined with its present stockholding proportion of net profits earned by the four Mills in which it has at least a 50% voting interest, but including only the regular dividends on stocks of Pacific Mills and Lawton Mills, have averaged $1,405,917 per year, equal to 3 1/2% $420,000 annual interest charges on these Notes. Dividends in 1922 on the pledged collateral alone were $640,000, or more than 1 1/2 times these charges.

The combined net earnings of the Company and the above mills, as a group, are now running at a rate fully up to the average annual earnings of the last 6 years.

SINKING FUNDS for purchase or call of Notes will be payable March 1 of each year, (the first payment based upon earnings of the fiscal year ending December 31, 1923), as follows:

- 1924-26 An amount equal to 50% of the net earnings of the Company available for dividends on the common and Class B stock during the preceding fiscal year.
- 1927-29 $300,000, plus an amount equal to the net earnings of the Company after interest, taxes, etc., as defined in the trust agreement, during the preceding fiscal year, but such additional amount not to exceed $200,000 per year.
- 1930-32 $300,000, plus an amount equal to the net earnings of the Company after interest, taxes, etc., as defined in the trust agreement, during the preceding fiscal year, but such additional amount not to exceed $300,000 per year.

FINANCIAL CONDITION: Upon completion of this financing, in addition to the stocks pledged to secure these Notes, the Company will have more than $2,750,000 current assets (including $1,000,000 par value of Pacific Mills stock and $762,000 cash), against current liabilities of $1,000,000.

NOTICE
To Holders of Managers' Interim Receipts for Unredeemed Preferred Stock
Notice is hereby given that the Temporary Certificates for Armour and Company of Iowa are 7% Guaranteed Preferred Stock and are to be delivered upon surrender of the Managers' Interim Receipts in exchange therefor. The said Armour and Company of Iowa is a subsidiary of the National Bank of the City of New York, 60 Wall Street, New York City.
Due to it being impossible to obtain permanent preferred stock certificates prior to the next dividend payment date, April 1, 1923, it is necessary that temporary certificates be issued in order that exchange may be made for outstanding interim receipts prior to the close of the stock transfer books for the dividend payment date. Holders are therefore requested to present their interim receipts promptly for exchange for temporary stock certificates.
Dated, February 28, 1923.

The New York Times.

New York, Feb. 27.—[Special.]—During a good part of the day the stock market moved undecidedly, advances of one point or more occurring simultaneously with equally large declines. Towards the last what appeared to be a concerted professional movement to bid up prices gave an aspect of returning strength to the market as a whole. It closed firm, but with net changes very irregular. Some stocks closed nearly or quite at the day's high prices; others at considerable losses from the highest; a few at the low prices reached on the day's decline. Total transactions were the smallest of any full day since Feb. 2.

Nothing in the day's news threw any light on the financial position or on investment values. Stock exchange call money rates were lower, but movements of that part of the market nowadays are so temporary in their scope, and so little connected with larger aspects of the credit situation, that their fractional advance or decline attracts only momentary notice. It is not a money market in which, as in the autumn of 1919, bank resources are too much depleted through investment in speculative loans on merchandise to spare the usual amount for the stock exchange.

The movement of the foreign exchange market was opposite to that of the stock market; it advanced early in the day and declined again later. Sterling at one time got to $4.71% or 1% above Monday's lowest; but it closed at exactly Monday's final price of $4.70%.

Principal changes in the bond market today were toward lower levels, with a number of high grade securities prominent. Selling in preparation for income tax payments and as a result of increased business activity, which is making it necessary for corporations to borrow new capital, is also set down as cause for the prevailing reactionary trend of the market. Liberty loans and the United States treasury 4% sagged further. The second 4% broke under $9 again. The tax exempt 5% were off 18 cents.

PRODUCE MARKETS

Butter prices showed little change in the leading markets. Chicago was somewhat easier, as dealers were inclined to keep closely cleaned up. At Philadelphia undergrades were quoted higher.

Fresh egg prices dropped 2 1/2c. Offerings were liberal and the demand rather slow. February contracts are said to have been cleaned up. Receipts, 17,891 cases.

Poatoes were firm for northern and easier on western stock. Receipts, 84 cars, with 167 cars on track.

Live poultry prices were unchanged, but dressed hens and springs were reduced 1c. Receipts, 7 cars and 1,570 coops.

U.S. Files $19,000,000 Liens

Against Horse and Mule Co.

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 27.—The liens for $19,000,000 were filed by the government in federal court here today against John D. Guyton and William R. Harrington, Lathrop, Mo., and Herman H. Beers, Ocala, Mo.; the Guyton-Harrington mule company of this city, and the Stockyards Horse and Mule company, also of Kansas City. The government claims the money is due in income taxes and penalties for 1917 from mule dealers. Failure of individuals and directors of the horse and mule companies to make returns was ascribed the reason for filing the liens. Warrants demanding a settlement will be issued within ten days, it was declared, unless a settlement has been offered. The firm of mule dealers is said to have made millions of dollars during the world war sending animals to Great Britain.

The salient features of the issue are summarized by Mr. E. W. Bassick, President of the Company as follows:

The BASSICK-ALEMITE CORPORATION has been organized to acquire the entire outstanding common capital stock of THE BASSICK COMPANY, and together with the latter corporation, the entire outstanding capital stock of the BASSICK MANUFACTURING COMPANY.

Business: The Bassick Company, a Connecticut Corporation, is the largest producer of furniture and truck casters in the world and one of the most important manufacturers of furniture and automobile hardware and trimmings in the United States.

The Bassick Manufacturing Company, a Delaware Corporation, with its plant and offices in Chicago, manufactures the Alemite System for High Pressure Lubrication of automotive vehicles and industrial machinery. This system is installed upon in excess of 25% of the total registered motor vehicles in the United States. The Company's products are distributed through 20,000 dealers in every section of the United States.

Earnings: Combined net earnings for 1922, after all charges including depreciation, amortization of patents, federal taxes and appropriate deduction for securities of subsidiaries not owned by the issuing corporation, were $1,181,776, or about 13 1/2 times maximum interest charge, and 5 1/2 times combined principal and interest charge upon the note issue. For the past 3 years combined annual net earnings similarly stated have averaged substantially 5 1/2 times maximum interest charge upon the note issue. The earnings statement is based upon the ownership of the entire common stock of both subsidiaries; only 44 of 584 shares still outstanding of the Bassick Company not having definitely assented to the plan.

Security: The notes are the direct obligation of the Bassick-Alemite Corporation and in addition are secured by pledge with the Trustee of the Company's entire interest in the above subsidiaries. The securities to be deposited have a net tangible asset value of $4,947,952.

Financial: In a recent appraisal by the United States Appraisal Company, the plants of the operating companies are given sound depreciated values of $3,311,007. The consolidated balance sheet of the Bassick-Alemite Corporation and subsidiaries (based upon the acquisition of the entire common stock of The Bassick Company) as of December 31, 1922, after all liabilities other than the note issue and appropriate deductions for other outstanding securities not owned by the holding company, shows net tangible assets of $4,947,952, or nearly 4 times the maximum note issue.

Management: The present financing involves no change of management, the men who have developed the business remaining in charge of its policies and retaining a substantial interest in the new Company.

With yesterday's hog receipts nearly 10,000 below expectations, the market opened strong and generally 10c higher. Light weights, however, were in large supply and this class weakened with the easy advance lost. Heavier weights held strong throughout the day, making the price range narrower. In some time, packers generally favored the heavier offerings. Top light reached $8.40, and the day's average $8, against $11.05 a year ago.

Native beef cattle met with a good demand, selling strong to 15c higher. Twenty-one 1,224 lb steers sold to Armour at $10.30, the highest in nearly two weeks and 25c above last week's top. Yearlings averaging 1,136 lbs reached $10.00. Native butcher stock closed weak to 15c lower and calves closed 50c lower, selling $1.00 below last week's high point. Feeding cattle ruled steady to strong.

Lambs Rule Weak.
After a strong to shade higher start, wool lambs lost strength as the day advanced, with late trading weak to 15c lower. Top lowered $15.40, with bulk at $14.50@15.25. Choice 94 lbs Idaho fed lambs brought $14.50, with 87 lb fed westerns at $15.25. Shorn stock was liberal at steady prices. Clipped lambs brought $12.00@12.75, with heavy at $10.50, while 39 lb shorn yearlings cashed at $10.25 and 113 lb weathers at $7.25. Lack of fancy light held top weat at $8.50 on a strong trade. Shearing lambs sold freely at $14.90@15.25 for 62@65 lb averages.

Seven western markets received 36,000 cattle, 112,000 hogs, and 40,000 sheep, against 42,000 cattle, 124,000 hogs, and 51,000 sheep the previous Tuesday, and 40,000 cattle, 91,000 hogs, and 41,000 sheep a year ago.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 10,000 cattle, 23,000 hogs, and 13,000 sheep, against 7,150 cattle, 20,853 hogs, and 17,481 sheep, the corresponding Wednesday a year ago.

Peshigo Paper.
M. C. Wausau, Wis.: The Peshigo (Wis.) Paper company was organized in June, 1922, to acquire properties of the Peshigo Fibre and the Peshigo Pulp & Paper companies. Improvements and enlargements, nearing completion, will give a total daily capacity of seventy-five tons of bleached sulphite pulp. The company's $1,100,000 of 7 per cent bonds, series A, are secured by a first mortgage on all properties, appraised at $2,612,150, or over 237 times the amount of these bonds. Net tangible assets as of Sept. 30, 1922 (after giving effect to this financing) were $2,910,580, or over 2.64 times the bonds. As the company is new no earnings statement is available. The president estimates ample earnings for 1923. These bonds are unseasoned. They are a suitable investment for a business man's spare funds.

Brief Answers.
M. E. Detroit, Mich.: The St. John & Quebec Railway company first mortgage 4 per cent guaranteed debenture stock matures June 1, 1923. A sinking fund of 1 per cent beginning 1922 is provided for the purchase of the stock up to 105. This stock is a first lien on railway property and is guaranteed principal and interest by the Province of New Brunswick, Can. The company now is operated by the government of the Dominion of Canada. This stock debenture stock is a conservative investment.

T. Y. W.: The Indiana Railway and Light company first and refunding 5% of 1941 are callable at 105 and interest on any interest date on sixty days' notice. They are well secured and have a good margin of safety. They are a sound investment.

F. J.: Piggy-Wiggy stock has been reviewed. Send stamped addressed envelope if you wish the clipping.

"On Land, Building and Earnings"

A direct, closed First Mortgage "on land, building and earnings" is your guarantee of security when you invest in Comlossy Bonds.

"Land, building and earnings"—each element must measure up to certain rigid standards, to qualify as the basis for Comlossy First Mortgage Bonds.

The land must be owned in fee and must be free from all indebtedness. It must be located within three blocks of the lake on Chicago's Great North Side—where property values have unexcelled stability.

The building must be a high grade apartment building, of fireproof construction and thoroughly adapted to the location.

A conservative valuation of the land and building must be considerably in excess of the total bond issue.

Earnings (rentals) must be at least three times the annual interest requirements. One-twelfth of the annual interest requirements must be deposited monthly by the borrower.

Such security is provided for in the trust deed of each Comlossy Bond issue. Thus, the "land, building and earnings," back of Comlossy Bonds, give the highest type of security obtainable for conservative investors.

TRUST DEPARTMENT

How one father provided for his daughter

His will provides that one third of his estate shall be held by us in trust for his daughter. The income is to be spent in her support and education under the direction of the mother should she survive; if not, then at our discretion.

When she marries we are authorized to buy and give her a home of her own choosing not to exceed a certain cost. At age thirty she is to receive outright one third of the Trust Fund as it then stands. The income from the remaining two thirds is to be paid her for life, and she is given the right to provide by her own will where the principal shall go upon her death.

By naming a permanent, experienced, and capable company as executor and trustee, he has assured the carrying out of his plans for this child.

Republican Coalition Leaders Felicitate Arthur C. Lueder on Decisive Victory in Mayoralty Primary.

LUEDER RECEIVES THE CONGRATULATIONS OF BRUNDAGE AND CROWE. Note the broom. It was handed to the Republican nominee for the mayoralty race last night as symbolic of what his election would mean to Chicago. The photo, taken shortly after the first returns indicated a sweeping victory for the G. O. P. harmony candidate, shows Mr. Crowe (left of trio), Mr. Brundage, and Mr. Lueder.
